Iraqi hangings may continue

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Defying the general outcry over the hanging of nine Jews, Baghdad radio warned Friday that Iraqi authorities will execute others convicted of spying if they deem it necessary.

The broadcast quoted Iraqi Information Minister Abdullah Samarrai as saying his government was capable of ordering more executions, regardless of the protests it might provike abroad.

Samarrai confirmed that the Revolutionary Court, which condemned the nine Jews and five other Iraqis hanged Monday, was preparing to try others accused of espionage.

"The trials will be held after other legal measures have been completed," Samarrai declared. He refused to give any more details on security grounds.

Reports have been circulating that another 35 persons, including 13 Jews, would be tried as spies in Baghdad and may have already gone before the court.

Fearing that a new trial might touch off Israeli reprisals that could ignite another Middle East war, the United States has appealed to Tel Aviv to use restraint in the situation.

Samarrai added that the Baghdad government "will show leniency and will pardon" an American petroleum engineer kept in jail in the Iraqi capital since early December. He may be released in a few days, the minister said.

Paul Bail, an employe Humble Oil Co. in Houston, Tex., was working for the Iraq Petroleum Co., a Western consortium. His wife, Betty, is held in what amounts to house arrest.

In Cairo, the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said Soviet leaders had sent an important message to President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the Middle East crisis.

Cheetah mauls boy near yacht

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — A 100-pound cheetah leaped from a $125,000 yacht docked at an ocean front luxury apartment Friday, mauled a 9-year-old boy and chased a motorcycle policeman before it was shot to death.

The big spotted cat, fastest land animal, was killed by the policeman and reinforcements who arrived in squad cars.

Jeff Kenzer, 9, was treated by the Miami Beach emergency squad for a bite on his foot and scratches, police said.

The cheetah was aboard the "June Bride," 57-foot yacht that had pulled up at the dock of the Sea Coast Towers without authorization, police said.

John Porto, assistant manager of the apartment building, said the complex manager, Nester Grommel, walked out to the Intercoastal Waterway, where the yacht was docked, and told the captain he'd have to move on.

"When Mr. Grommel saw the cat start toward him," Porto continued, "he turned and ran and called the police. They told him to stay put and they'd be right over."

Porto said he went out to the dock just in time to see the cat leap the yacht railing.

S. Vietnam general hit by missile

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese major general, Nguyen Van Kiem, was wounded Saturday when an explosive charge was thrown at his car near downtown Saigon, apparently by Viet Cong terrorists, authorities reported.

Kiem, a special military staff chief to President Nguyen Van Thieu, suffered a broken leg, initial reports said. His bodyguard was wounded. The vehicle burned.

Authorities said the explosive might have been a grenade. No arrests were reported.

The attack on Kiem was the second within a month against a high ranking government official in Saigon. On Jan. 6, South Vietnam's education minister, Le Minh Tre, was killed when an explosive charge was hurled into his car.

In another Saigon terrorist incident reported Saturday, two men on a motorbike threw an explosive charge into an American parking lot. The only loss reported was one damaged car.

Scott designs volunteer army bill

OTTAWAY NEWS SERVICE
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) Friday introduced a bill designed to ease transition to an all-volunteer army.

In a Senate speech, Scott said his legislation would establish a presidential commission on a voluntary military service.

The ultimate goal of his measure, Scott explained, is to abolish the draft. Thursday, President Richard Nixon called on the Defense Department to develop a plan for ending the draft after the Vietnam war.

Commenting on the possibility of an all-volunteer army, Scott said that "nothing should be more in keeping with our American tradition of encouraging individual freedom of choice to the maximum extent possible."

"Solutions to these problems will not be found overnight," he declared.

Oil slick damages California coast

Complex unit over four miles

SAIGON (AP) — Sweeping into the enemy's back yard, U. S. air cavalrymen have seized against little resistance what is believed to be the largest North Vietnamese base found so far in the war.

Engineers have begun blowing up bunkers at the base spread over four square miles. U.S. officers said Friday they believed it was being enlarged in preparation for an enemy offensive.

The complex was found 53 miles northwest of Saigon and 14 miles fom Cambodia's border. It included a large underground hospital, dining halls, a command post, and hundreds of bunkers. U.S. officers estimated it could accommodate 5,000 or more men.

The first intimation that a big base might be in this old enemy stronghold came last week when 400 soldiers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division flew in by helicopters.

After uncovering various bunkers, the air cavalrymen made their largest finds Wednesday and Thursday. In a week, they reported killing about 50 North Vietnamese soldiers. But only three enemy soldiers were killed when the complex was uncovered.

A spokesman for the division was asked why the North Vietnamese put up so little resistance at a base of such evident importance.

"They don't fight for a hole in the ground," he replied. "They can expend troops in a better manner. It is not smart tactically to fight for a bunker complex."

Lt. Col. Frank Henry, Franklin, N.C., estimated there may be as many as 1,000 bunkers in the area and added: "They've been doing a lot of work on this complex in the past month. We think they were preparing for the coming offensive down south."

He referred to expected enemy attacks on military installations north of Saigon and possibly on the capital itself.

Engineers blowing up the bunkers and tunnels said the job might take weeks.

The lull in ground fighting continued but 36 U.S. B52 bombers unloaded more than 1,000 tons of explosives in the past 24 hours on suspected enemy troop concentrations near Can Tho, the big nerve center for military operations south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

U.S. Green Beret forces turned over their Special Forces camp at Gia Vuc to the government under a plan to shift more responsibility to the South Vietnamese. Gia Vuc is 290 miles north of Saigon.

It was the seventh Special Forces camp turned over to the South Vietnamese but 50 more camps still have their Green Beret advisers. Many are located in crucial border infiltration areas.

Another enemy hideaway, turned up by U.S. air cavalrymen 35 miles southwest of Saigon, added 57,750 rifle rounds, more than 700 rounds for larger arms and other war material to the allies' growing store of captured munitions.

U.S. officers said the big North Vietnamese complex, in another direction from the capital, was unearthed by degrees.

Nixon seeks crime control additions in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called Friday for more policemen, prosecutors and judges, and stricter bail laws to fight crime in Washington. At the same time he asked rebuilding of the capital's riot-wrecked areas and a governing voice for its residents.

He recommended hiring 1,000 additional policemen and authorization for 40 more assistant U.S. attorneys and 10 judges for the District of Columbia.

Nixon put no over-all price tag on his wide-ranging suggestions. Nor did he specify how he proposes to overcome such problems as difficulty in finding recruits for the district police department which was authorized last year to add 1,000 men but has been unable to do so thus far.

He said he does not have "a magic formula that would end crime and sweep away despair overnight," but he proposes a start toward solving deep social troubles that have been long building.

Nixon reiterated his support for home rule for the District of Columbia and said he will press for a voting representative in Congress for the 850,000 residents who now can vote only for president and vice president and for their school board.

In other activities in this 12th day of his presidency, Nixon:

—Assured the nation's military men that he will heed their advice as he shapes U.S. policy. Paying his second visit of the week to the Pentagon, Nixon told a gathering of military brass:

"We're counting on you. I will respect your advice."

He added he doesn't hold with the idea that generals and admi*rals are skilled only in* weapons and battle strategy. He said that he feels his military advisers can make valuable contributions.

—Directed the Department of Transportation to set up a special committee to investigate all aspects of the costly federally sponsored program to develop a huge supersonic civilian air transport.

—Was host at his first presidential, white-tie White House reception for the capital's diplomatic corps.

Glimmer of hope

Wall Street deep in paper

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street remains swamped in pa*perwork after nearly eight* months of curtailed trading periods but some securities industry sources said Friday they see a glimmer of improvement.

The clerical problem—mainly failure to deliver stock certificates to buyers in the normal five-day period—stems from year-long heavy trading vol*ume.*

The New York Stock Exchange reported this week that the U.S. stockholder population has spurted to 26.4 million, an increase of 2.5 million in the last year and of 6.5 million since 1965.

The New York exchange said some improvement had been noted this month in the paperwork jam. It reported an 18 per cent decrease in the number of failures to deliver stock certificates and it reduced from 45 to 32 the number of exchange firms ordered to restrict the volume of their business due to paperwork problems.

Stocks on pages 14, 15)

The president of a major brokerage firm said there had been a definite improvement in the fail area.

American Stock Exchange officials said they view the paperwork jam "as one of the most pressing problems facing the securities industry." The exchange expressed concern over rising trading volume and speculation and asked member firms to report what they were doing to restrain it.

Robert W. Haack, New York exchange president, has expressed concern that some brokers had turned away small in*vestors because of the crush of* market activity.

The exchanges closed one day a week, usually Wednesday, from last June 12 through December. Since Jan. 2 they have operated five days a week with daily trading hours ending at 2 p.m.—shortened by 90 minutes.

Stewardess hijacked once again

MIAMI (AP) — A gunman who said he was "tired of TV dinners" and wanted to go to Cuba to get a square meal engineered this year's 11th plane hijacking to Havana Friday.

Stewardess Leanna Anderson said the man poked a cocked gun in her ribs and kept it there all the way from Houston, Tex., to Havana.

She said he told her he wanted a square meal and was fed up with TV dinners.

Ironically, some 1,700 Cuban refugees arrive in Miami each week and complain of lack of food in severely rationed Cuba.

Charles Leeds, captain of the National airliner diverted from a San Francisco-New Orleans-Miami flight with 55 passengers and eight crew members aboard, described the hijacker as a typical American between 28 and 32 and "very well dressed and well spoken."

Twice-hijacked stewardess Donna Goldinker commented, "This time it was a breeze. I was in the rear and didn't know what was going on until they announced it."

When a plane was hijacked last March, the 27-year-old brunette was forced to march to the cockpit with a gun at her neck.

Apollo 9 now May possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency said Friday it may attempt to land a man on the moon in May if its Apollo 9 space shot next month is successful.

"After we have assessed the results of Apollo 9 we may want to make the next mission more ambitious or less ambitious than now planned," Apollo 9 Mission Director George H. Hage explained.

Apollo 9, due for launching Feb. 28 from Cape Kennedy, is designed to orbit the earth with, for the first time, the full complement of equipment needed for a manned lunar landing.

"We have built in enough flexibility so that we can react quickly to difficulties or to successes," Hage said.

At the same time, Hage told a news conference an unsuccessful Apollo 9 mission could result in the next space shot attempt*ing to complete the mission for* which the Feb. 28 shot is de*signed.*

Apollo 9, described previously as the busiest, most complex flight in the history of the U.S. space program, is to include the first orbital testing of the lunar module that will carry the first men to the moon.

Scorpion still mystery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced Friday that eight months of study have not disclosed why the nuclear-powered submarine Scorpion was lost in the Atlantic with 99 men aboard. But it will make another effort to solve the mystery this year.

The deep diving research submarine Trieste II will try for close up photographs of the Scorpion more than two miles deep in the Atlantic, southwest of the Azores Islands.

School tax shows rise in state

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania School Boards Association reported Friday that final statistics for the 1968-69 school year will show a 17 per cent increase in local school taxes.

John C. Snyder, president of the statewide association of school director's made the comment in summarizing a 68-page report contining tax information on Pennsylvania's 741 school districts.

"Local property owners face a tax load on a statewide basis of almost $227 on every $10,000 of market value property in the 1969-70 fiscal year," Snyder said.

He added the 1967-68 figure was about $198.

"What is really boils down to is that if more school aid isn't forthcoming, we're going to bankrupt the local property owner and local school districts," he said.

Gov. Shafer's recently proposed $2.5 billion budget included $1.4 billion, or 56 per cent, for education. He also proposed an income tax to help pay the costs.

The association supported both the educational outlay and the tax recommendation in a separate statement.

Snyder said information for the tax report came from state reports.

Jury finds cop guilty in slaying

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A jury of six fathers Friday found a young expoliceman, Robert Erler, guilty of the "catch-me" murder of 12-year-old Merilyn Clark whose death Erler once investigated.

The pale, trembling Erler was immediately sentenced to 99 years and six months at hard labor at Raiford State Prison.

The jury spent two hours and 25 minutes in deliberations before convicting the 24-year-old Erler of second degree murder.

Among the main state witnesses had been five friends—four of them police officers—who said it was his voice on a taped telephone call to the sheriff's office admitting the murder and saying, "Please catch me. Please . . . hurry up."

Erler's sisters, Lynne and Betty, cried when the verdict was announced. His mother, Winifred Erler, was dry-eyed but shaking as her other son, Dan, 21, embraced her.

The boyish-looking Erler, a Vietnam veteran who said he loved his gun, had denied the crime during a 4½-hour stint on the witness stand Thursday. But he remained silent after the verdict and during the sentencing.

"I did not kill anybody," Erler had said in his own defense Thursday. "Regardless of what anybody says, I didn't kill anybody. I am telling the truth and I am not the one that killed this little girl. I am telling the solemn truth."

Second degree murder carries a sentence of life in prison or any term of years less than 20. By sentencing Erler to the large number of years, Court of Record Judge E. Summers Sheffey guaranteed he must serve 33 years before being eligible for parole unless the conviction is reversed.

Undersea oil leak takes toll of wildlife off California

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A huge oil slick—now taking a toll of wildlife—spread wider over the ocean Friday but the Coast Guard said the flow from a leaky undersea well seemed to be slowing.

There was no indication, however, when experts might halt it.

The thin film washed ashore along a 14-mile stretch of scenic shoreline south of here but caused no great mess on the sand. It was visible as scum or small droplets.

Residents reported seeing birds—gulls and grebes, mostly—covered with oil. Some were dead. Fish and game experts said the birds might have consumed oil while trying to clean their feathers.

Heaviest concentrations of the floating ooze remained at sea.

After an aerial survey the Coast Guard said the main part of the slick was about 12 miles long and four miles wide, drifting down the coast parallel to shore—with an area of 200 square miles.

The well, being drilled by Union Oil Co. of California from a manmade platform 5½ miles offshore, developed a leak Tuesday morning. A company spokesman said the oil was coming from the well's 3,000-foot level to the 200-foot level, where pressure from natural gas forced it to the surface. The flow, before the Coast Guard estimated it was diminishing, was reckoned at 21,000 gallons a day.

The leaks were not only around the drill pipe, a spokesman said, but from cracks in undersea strata. Oil and gas bubbles were reported at five different points on the surface.

A Fish and Game department boat sprayed detergents on the slick, trying to break it up, but said the solvent appeared to have little effect.

The department launched a program to pick up oil-soaked birds along beaches. A spokesman said it was unlikely the oil would hurt fish, but it could become harmful in time to shellfish on beaches, and chemicals used to try to break it up could harm bottom fish and plankton. There was fear, too, that it might bother migrating gray whales in the area.

Animals liable

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Emilio Pellegatta's bull has added a refinement to Italian jurisprudence—a provision that road-crossing animals never have the right of way. A court ruled thus after the bull walked into the path of Amadio Poldini's car, forcing Poldini into a ditch. Pellegatta was ordered to pay $1,666 in damages and court costs.

Alongshore, log booms were stretched across several harbors and marinas, and in front of utility firm intake lines, to keep oil from fouling waterfront facilities and boats.

Action taken despite foreign cutbacks

Steel boss pushes for more quotas

PITTSBURGH (AP) — President I.W. Abel of the United Steelworkers said Friday the union will continue fighting for government quotas on foreign steel imports even though foreign steelmakers have voluntarily cut back shipments.

Speaking at a union legislative conference Abel urged a ceiling of 12 million tons of foreign steel this year with increases of no more than two per cent each ensuing year.

U.S. Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., told the conference he is planning to co-sponsor a bill limiting foreign imports that "will help American steel companies and steelworkers compete against the low cost of foreign imports."

At a morning news conference, Schweiker said his bill, which will be ready in a few weeks, will be similar to the Steelworkers' proposal.

"We are being unrealistic in our foreign trade policies when we don't realize that U.S. labor is better paid and we want to keep it that way," the senator said.

Abel praised the recent voluntary agreement under which Japanese and European steel producers will limit their exports to the United States through 1971. However, he said the voluntary plan wasn't enough.

Under the agreement, the countries will hold their steel exports to the U.S. to 11.5 million tons this year, but the total may be increased five per cent in each following year. Steel import quotas in 1968 totaled close to 18 million tons, Abel said.

Steel imports from countries that are not parties to the agreement should bring the 1969 imports to about 14 million tons, he said.

"We are going to continue to press for a more permanent solution to the steel import problem so that a fair trade relationship can be established and the jobs of our members can be protected more effectively." Abel explained.

He said the voluntary pact will help the steelworkers in 1971 when they negotiate their next Basic Steel contract. With the agreement, Abel said, 1971 imports will be limited to 15.4 million tons rather than the estimated 22 million without the pact.

In discussing the union's legislative program Abel noted that the Nixon Administration has assumed power in a nation that has been free from economic recession for eight years.

"We trust this prosperity will continue and that there will be no deliberate action to slow inflation by trading off unemployment for price stability-in other words, taking it out of the hides of workers who did not cause the inflation to start with," Abel said.

Abel listed improvements in Social Security and the Ferleral minimum wage law, reinsurance of pension plans, an effective health and safety bill, and federal standards for unemployment compensation as legislative objectives of the union.

He said the USW would continue to push for abolishment of tax exempt bonds issued by state and local government to build factories. He said these put an added burden on the taxpayer, while helping industry.

Hanoi bid nibbled by allies

*PARIS (AP) — Allied diplo*mats at the Paris peace talks expressed interest Friday in Hanoi's latest statement of its conditions for peace in Vietnam.

Their attention was focused on a subtle shift of emphasis by North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy during a record-long 7½-hour session Thursday.

Thuy seemed to suggest Hanoi might accept a political settlement short of handing over control of South Vietnam to the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

This shift, if it is that, could move the Vietnam antagonists closer together, despite the quantities of diatribe exchanged at the official sessions.

Though a source close to the South Vietnamese delegation expected U.S. representatives to request clarification of Thuy's declaration, a U.S. delegation spokesman said he had no comment when asked if the Americans had contacted Hanoi's envoys.

The contact could be made before next Thursday's scheduled negotiating session by U.S. delegation liaison secretaries or Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance, who has met frequently behind the scenes with Col. Ha Van Lau, deputy chief of the North Vietnamese delegation.

Or the Americans could wait until the meeting day to hear Thuy's restatement of his government's position.

Thuy repeated at Thursday's marathon session Hanoi's view that the "conference can achieve results only if it is based on . . . (North Vietnam's) four points and the National Liberation Front's five points."

The formulation "based on" varied slightly from Hanoi's earlier demand that the settlement must be made "according to" the four-point program.

What struck allied diplomats particularly was a subsequent phrase in which Thuy spoke of creating "conditions favorable to the settlement of the political problem of South Vietnam following the principle of self-determination in a situation where the National Liberation Front exists . . ."

Though Thuy declared the front was the "authentic representative of the South Vietnamese population, he seemed to be suggesting that Hanoi, at least, would be satisfied by the front's participation—"existence"—in the political life of postwar South Vietnam, rather than domination of it.

Whether this demand represents his government's rock-bottom negotiating position remained to be clarified.

U-Chicago students spurn threats; extend occupation

CHICAGO (AP) — Dissident and defiant University of Chicago students shrugged off threats of disciplinary action Friday and continued their plans to occupy the administration building through the weekend.

The 225 students marched into the six-story building at noon Thursday to protest against the firing of a woman sociology professor. They announced Friday they would conduct student power seminars, speeches, jam sessions and dances in the barricaded building during the weeend.

Many of the occupying students arrived with bags of sandwiches, blankets and sleeping bags, apparently ready for a long siege.

Students leaders said Friday they were prepared to sit in until the university granted their demands which included rescinding the decision not to rehire Mrs. Marlene Dixon, 32, whose three-year contract expires in September.

The university is situated on the South Side near Lake Michigan and has an enrollment of 9,400.

Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, a noted educator, psychiatrist and writer, said Friday that most of the students disavow the sit-in and disagree with the student protest.

Rocket train

PARIS (AP)—An experimental model of the French air-cushion train called Aerotrain recently hit 253 m.p.h. with the help of a rocket in the rear. The builders say the train, which runs on a concerete roadway middle, can attain high speed with complete safety.

Dr. Bettelheim called a news conference on the campus to express his feelings on student revolts in general.

"They remind me of what I saw in German universities which led to the fascist government and the Adolph Hitler regime," he said. He said he was against violence but felt that society should be stricter in dealing with minority group dissent.

"What many of these kids need is psychiatric treatment, not violence," he said. "Many of them are paranoid . . . society should call nuts nuts!"

The demonstration was called Wednesday night after 1,400 students attended a rally sponsored by a group which called itself the Committee of 85.

Students voted 444 to 430 to take militant action. The committee changed its name to the Committee of 444.

Mrs. Dixon, a stocky blonde who was graduated with honors *from the University of Califor*nia at Berkeley and received master and doctorate degrees there, has been at the University of Chicago since 1966.

She refuses to discuss the reasons for which she believes she was fired.

Students said Friday that their protest centers on the university's alleged secrecy about Mrs. Dixon's firing rather than the firing itself.

Earlier in the week student leaders contended that Mrs. Dixon was fired because of her membership in leftist organizations, the New University Conference and Women's Liberation; because she is a woman and because she violated the publish-or-perish philosophy reportedly subscribed to by many schools.

State mines defended on shutdown order

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Mines Secretary H. Beecher Charmbury said Friday only a dozen Pennsylvania bituminous coal mines were involved in a large number of federally-ordered shutdowns in the wake of the Mannington, W. Va., disaster.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines reported it had ordered more than 100 mines closed across the nation since the Nov. 20 explosion and fire killed 78 West Virginia miners. The federal bureau said inspections showed "the hazard of imminent disaster" in the mines involved.

"Since Dec. 18, they have closed 12 mines in Pennsylvania," said the secretary of mines and mineral industries. "In 10 of these, only sections were involved while two were shut down entirely."

Most of the shutdowns were only for 24 to 48 hours while problems were corrected. said Charmbury.

"As far as I know, all 12 of them involved are back in operation," he said.

Charmbury said state inspections of the 12 mines immediately after the federally-ordered shutdowns led him to question *the need for most of the clo*sures.

Eleven of the 12 closures were due to lack of "rock dusting," he said. This involved mixing inert dust through coal dust in the mine to limit the fire hazard and was corrected within hours.

Only one, Charmbury said, *was due to the presence of dan*gerous methane gas.

Charmbury said he was convinced that one of the reasons so few of Pennsylvania's 1,500 to 2,000 deep mines were involved in the federal shutdown was the state's own mine inspection program.

"We're real proud of our Pennsylvania inspectors and the job they are doing and we're proud of the industry in the job that it is doing to try to make the mines as safe as possible."

The mines secretary added that this week's near disaster in a mine near Mount Morris, Pa., did not occur in an area under his department's jurisdiction.

The fire in the Humphrey No. 7 mine of Consolidated Coal Co. trapped a handful of miners in a deep shaft for a number of hours and one miner was overcome by smoke.

Long sea journey

OTTAWA (AP) — A 47,000-mile Canadian oceanographic voyage of scientists will mark the first circumnavigation of the Americas, Resources Minister J.J. Greene told the House of Commons. It is to begin at Halifax, N.S., Nov. 19 in the Canadian ship Hudson and end there in October 1970.

Hughes buys into silver, gold mines

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — Bilionaire Howard Hughes, whose Nevada acquisitions so far include six Las Vegas hotels and casinos, has turned now to gold and silver mines.

Some of his claims date from turn-of-the-century bonanza days and bear nostalgic names like Red-Eyed Monster, Scorpion, Jim Crow, Tonopah Belle, Pandora and Fool.

Recorder deeds and a newspaper survey showed Friday that the industrialist's Hughes Tool Co. has purchased or taken options on 16 major mining firms or claim groups in two central Nevada counties.

Included are more than 150 claims in the Tonopah mining district, where a 1900 silver strike set off a 46-year bonanza worth more than $147 million.

Rising prices for silver and gold and new, efficient methods of recovering the metals from ore have renewed interest in properties miners once abandoned as worthless.

Hughes spokesmen in Las Vegas have declined comment on plans for the mining properties.

The Outstanding Teenagers were nominated by the school to compete for state and national Outstanding Teenager of America awards program, to be recognized and encouraged in their ability and achievements.

Five Pleasant Valley students were recognized in three awards areas during a special assembly program Friday. Named by the school as Outstanding Teenagers of the Year were (from the left), Edgar Mitchell, Audrey Arner and Marie Conklin. William Bowker, right, was named January's Student of the Month along with Pamela Meitzler (not pictured). Miss Arner also received the annual Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award. Olenick hearing closer MILFORD — Deputy State Attorney General Frank Lawley said Friday extradition papers for James M. Olenick, 17, of Port Jervis, N.Y. will probably be sent to Gov. Raymond Shafer early next week.

Lawley said the Pennsylvania State Department received the extradition request Wednesday from Pike County District Attorney William Gumble.

The State Department was expected to complete a requisition on the extradition for Lawley's review by late Friday or Monday.

Lawley said he will forward the requisition to Gov. Shafer following his review.

Once Gov. Shafer acts on the extradition, the requisition will be forwarded to Robert Douglas, counsel for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. When approved, Gov. Rockefeller will issue a governor's warrant calling for an extradition hearing in the Orange County Court.

Gumble will conduct the extradition hearing.

Olenick, accused of murdering Robert Ziepke, 41, of Cambria Heights, N.Y. is currently in the Orange County Jail in Goshen.

Ziepke was found slain in his vacation home at Hemlock Farms in Blooming Grove Township on December 28.

Soose's motel damaged

LAKE WALLENPAUPACK — Three children were uninjured when a minor blaze started in a unit of the Billy Soose Restaurant and Motel at Lake Wallenpaupack this week.

The three children, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baldwin, had hung some clothes near a lighted bulb when the heat of the bulb ignited the clothing.

Flames from the burning clothes quickly spread to the bed clothes in the motel unit. One of the youngsters, however, grabbed the bed clothes, rushed into the kitchen and doused them with water. Baldwin is employed at the motel.

Soose, the owner, is a former middleweight champion who won the title in 1941 from Kevin Overlin. Soose has just been named to the Mercer County Hall of Fame by the Oldtimers Baseball and Athletic Assn.

Soose was honored for his boxing skills at a banquet held January 25 in the Shenango Inn in Sharon. Soose operated the motel for over 20 years.

Manslaughter charge filed against Pocono Lake man

STROUDSBURG — A 24-year-old Pocono Lake man has been charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of David Dally of Blakeslee who was killed in an automobile accident in Carbon County last December 7.

The man, James Shotwell, was driver of the car in which Dally was a passenger.

Shotwelll, who was charged by Fern Ridge State Police, was given a magistrate hearing before Justice of the Peace Elizabeth S. Smith of White Haven.

The magistrate's transcript, filed with the Carbon County Clerk of Courts Frank Wehr, stated that there is sufficient evidence to establish a prima facie case.

The transcript of the January 21 hearing also states that Shotwell did "operate said vehicle carelessly, disregarding the right and safety of others and in a manner so as to endanger other persons and property."

David Dally

Dally, 21, was pronounced dead at the scene of the crash on Route 534 about six miles north of Albrightsville. Dally, the son of John and Irene Crisp Dally, was a sergeant in the Marines and had been discharged.

The accident involved a car and two pickup trucks. Police at the time said Shotwell was attempting to pass a pickup truck driven by Marvin E. Saul of Fairless Hills when the car went out of control and skidded into the path of another pick up truck driven by Kenneth T. Meckes of White Haven R.D. 1

Shotwell and another passenger in his car, William R. Covert, 23, of San Diego, Calif. were both injured in the crash.

Shotwell is free on $500 bail and is scheduled to appear in Carbon County Court during the April term.

New judge announces candidacy

EASTON — Northampton County Judge Richard D. Grifo, appointed to the bench last December 16 by Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, has announced his candidacy as the county's fourth jurist.

The Easton native will seek election for a 10 year term on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Judge Grifo is a 1936 graduate of Easton High School. He received his bachelor's degree from Lafayette College in 1940 and his law degree in 1943 from the University of Pennsylvania.

A part-time teacher at Lafayette from 1945 to 1949, Judge Grifo served as a law clerk in the Federal Dsitrict Court and then entered into private law practice with George Coffin Jr.

N.B.E.S.

This isn't news; it's just America

To read the papers you'd think that we were a nation of hoodlums. But, newspapers or not, what makes this the wonderful nation it is keeps right on happening . . . quietly.

Remember for example:

. . . The thousands of hard-working, dedicated teachers who stay after school to help straighten out the twisted thinking of troubled boys and girls.

. . . The countless nurses and young interns who don't quit at the end of their shift, but go back to the bedsides of a frightened child or a desperately lonely old woman.

. . . The workmen who donate week-ends to rebuild a widow's cottage shattered by storm, or a small town church destroyed by fire.

. . . The young men who risk their security and their savings to launch a business – for profit, yes, but also to try to create something worth-while in this country of theirs.

. . . The countless parents who deny themselves necessities to give their children health and education advantages they never had.

. . . And underpaid ministers, hard-working fund raisers, and especially — especially those young men in uniform offering their futures, their lives for their country.

There may be no news in good news like this, but it helps you rise above a lot of the sordid kind, doesn't it?

Community service reward

By NORMAN B. LEHDE

MILFORD — A group of ladies from the Milford Garden Club are spending many of their winter days in the Sunday School Room of the Presbyterian Church. The ladies are surrounded by papers and more papers as they assemble material to be used in the scrapbook the club will enter in the Pennsylvania Community Improvement Contest.

One group goes through the papers extracting articles which will point up community progress. Progress along the lines of endeavor that the club had established as goals when they filed their contest entry. The second group then classifies the articles under the various subtitles which will be used in the scrapbook to better illustrate the different categories of effort and accomplishment.

The contest, which is sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce and a number of other cooperating industrial firms, is now conducted on a two-year basis. The current contest covers 1968 and 1969. This means the actual assembling of the scrapbook will not take place until next January when the results of the two-year period can be featured.

Since industrial development is something with little blossoming power in the Milford area, the club has used beautification and general, all-around civic improvement as their objectives during the years they have been entering the contest. Their efforts have both stirred up new programs and have been instrumental in perpetuating old ones: all in the interests of the community.

In addition to compiling the official entry, the club also makes up a "local" scrapbook each year. This book will provide future historians with a wealth of ready material on civic activities and programs of our time.

How successful and competent are the members of the club who work on this scrapbook? Since 1956 the organization has been on the prize winners list in 10 consecutive contests. (Two of these contests have, like the present one, covered two-year periods). They have won $6,950 which, under the rules of the contest, is used for civic improvement.

THE MENTAL Health-Mental Retardation program in Carbon, Monroe and Pike counties was explained to a small but interested group of persons at the court house on Tuesday evening.

The Drew University Choir will present a program of sacred and secular music at the Presbyterian Church in Milford on Friday evening, Feb. 7. The program, which is sponsored by the Protestant churches of the Delaware Valley, will open at 8:00 p.m.

Milford will be the host when the Regional Chamber of Commerce meets on Wednesday, March 12. The meeting will be held at the Tom Quick Inn.

THE GREATER part of the meeting of the directors of the Pike County Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening was devoted to a discussion in regard to the brochure-guide which is being prepared for the Chamber by Harold Karp of New York City. The latter, who was present at the meeting, is currently making contacts throughout the county, and is confident that the publication will be ready for the press in the early spring.

Curtis Rice of the Lyric Arts Opera Company will serve as one of the judges in the "Miss Pike County" contest sponsored by the Lake Wallenpaupack Association. The judging will take place at the Wallenpaupack Lodge on Saturday evening, Feb. 15.

All Pike County girls, who are single and between the ages of 17 and 25 inclusive, are being urged to enter. Girls or parents desiring specific information are urged to contact either Mrs. John Edwards or Mrs. Charles Gillette, both of Star Route 2, Hawley.

THE NEW Chief of Police, Raymond Conklin, is now on duty in the village and learning the duties of his office from Mayor William C. Geiger. The latter served as the town's chief of police before he became a councilman and later mayor.

Heart campaign begins today

Heart-shaped figures and February are normally associated with Valentine's Day. They also should be related to the highest annual death toll in the United States and a battle waged against medicine's public enemy number one.

The 1969 Heart Fund Campaign, directed by the Keystone Heart Assn., begins in Monroe, Wayne and Pike counties today and runs for a full month. All proceeds from the drive will be used to battle the number one killer in the United States.

Last year there were 1,010,812 deaths attributed to diseases of the heart and blood vessels, with 253,684 of the fatalities listed among men and women under 65 years of age.

The 1,010,812 figure compares with 303,736 deaths attributed to cancer and 113,563 fatalities resulting from automobile accidents.

It has been explained by those close to the heart campaign that half of the obituaries read in any newspaper in the country are directly related to heart disease or related illnesses.

Last year the national Heart Fund campaign totaled about $37 million, which when figured on a population of 197.2 million, resulted in an average contribution of 20 cents per person. In fact, the $416 million Heart Fund contribution from 1949 through 1969 represents a contribution of $10 per family across the country.

This is a microscopic figure when compared to the fact that 54 per cent of all the deaths in the United States are attributed to heart diseases.

Monroe County's goal for this year's campaign is $12,000. There will be a house-to-house canvass, contribution containers have been placed throughout the area and gifts may be mailed to the Monroe County Heart Assn.

This campaign deserves the support of everyone, as medicine battles a disease that is expected to claim 1,059,400 lives in 1969, or 54.5 of all the deaths that will occur this year.

The battle begins today and we all can aid the cause, one that appears to be growing with time and the pressure-packed pace of the world today.

Ground Hog Day

Although there has been a lack of snow this winter, there have been enough low temperatures and enough ice and rain of late to make us wonder just what the remaining winter months of February and March have in store.

That magic day, on which all future weather problems are solved, is rapidly approaching. In fact, February 2, Ground Hog's Day, is Sunday.

Ancient lore has it that the Ground Hog sticks his head out of his hole, while taking a short break in winter hibernation, to see just what the weatherman has in store. If the ground hog sees his shadow there will be six more weeks of winter. If, however, he is unable to locate his shadow because of a lack of sunshine, spring should be just around the corner.

Ground Hog Day is a custom that people from Germany and Great Britain brought to the United States. It is believed that when the ground hog sees his shadow he becomes frightened and pops right back into his hole and the continuance of winter for at least six weeks is a certainty.

There are groups of men who each February 2 pay mock worship to the ground hog and the tradition of weather prognostication that he has built over the years. There are at least three such active groups in this community.

Good fellowship and laughter are the annual order for February 2 among humans. However, often an ill tempered ground hog forces the continuance of winter rather than bring about an early spring, just to spite the human race.

What does Sunday have in store for us this year?

Coin Corner

Items for collection

BY ROBERT SVENSSON

In a recent column in this newspaper, we pointed out the wisdom of collecting Winged Liberty or Mercury Head Dimes, Standing Liberty Quarters, and Franklin Halves.

These particular series of three coins were the last to be minted in silver. In short, these coins were never produced in the present "clad" or copper-core variety we are now getting. They are the last of a kind and deserve special attention for collectors. Earlier we promised to go into detail so this column will deal with two of them: the dimes and quarters.

Dimes

The Winged Liberty or Mercury Dime was first issued in 1916 and expired in 1945 when it was replaced by the present Roosevelt Dime. A complete collection of Mercury Dimes would require a total of 79 coins.

Another coin with a future is the Standing Liberty Quarter.

Long odds

Roscoe Drummond

Deputy president

WASHINGTON — The most significant action of the first 10 days of the new Administration is this:

Richard Nixon is giving Vice President Spiro Agnew a cram course in how to be president.

He is making Agnew a total participant in virtually every policy decision the president is taking.

The purpose, to give Agnew as quickly as possible and as fully as possible the training and knowledge to serve as President if he has to.

That this contingency may be improbable is not causing Nixon to delay in ordering the wide-ranging apprenticeship which any Vice President needs and often does not get.

Here is how the president is doing it:

1 — Agnew is being kept almost continuously at the center of policy formulation, domestic and foreign.

2 — Nixon is making Agnew an active, participating member of three major instruments of the presidency — the National Security Council, the Cabinet and the Urban Affairs Council of which he is chairman.

3 — Agnew will preside at high-level White House meetings, including the NCS and the Cabinet, when the president is unable to attend. Nixon has instructed Cabinet members that he doesn't want them sending deputies just because the vice president is presiding.

4 — Agnew will run an arm of the presidency designed to achieve a major administration goal of much closer relations between Washington and state and local government. Every governor and mayor will look to Agnew as the door to federal agencies and to the White House.

Nixon's objective is evident. It is to involve Agnew with every crucial function of the presidency so that if he ever has to become acting president he will be intimately familiar with the operations and policies of the White House. The president is doing this to fully use his vice president and especially to make sure that at some future time he isn't dumped into a crisis without all the experience and knowledge Nixon can make available to him by the best possible on-the-job training.

There is no need to be delicate about why the president is bringing Agnew so promptly and so deeply into the center of things. They both know that for good reasons or bad — or both — many people develop doubts as to whether Gov. Agnew was qualifies to meet Nixon's first requirement for a running-mate — that he be fully capable to serve as president if the need arose.

Obviously, these doubts will not be removed by words alone. Nixon and Agnew are aware that they can only be removed by acts and this is one of the reasons the president is moving so promptly to give Agnew the fullest opportunity to serve at a very high level of government operation.

Accepts with confidence

The vice president knows that how speedily and how fully he dispels these doubts is now up to him. He accepts his new opportunities with zest and with confidence tempered somewhat by what happened during the campaign. He isn't stepping back one bit from the assignments Nixon is giving him.

When it was announced that the vice president would use the White House staff for many of his duties, the easy interpretation was that Agnew was going to be kept under lock and key — or allowed to operate only at the other end of a White House leash.

Agnew never did believe this and now he knows that it is not the way it is going to be.

When Harry Truman was Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice president, he was never allowed to know anything. Under Nixon, the vice president is being allowed to know and to be in the midst of just about everything.

This means that Spiro Agnew will be making his own reputation by his own conduct in office during the coming months.

Don MacLean

GOP can't spell

WASHINGTON — Several readers who were here for the inaugural are now home and, after studying a souvenir menu given away in various hotel dining rooms here, decided to send one to me. The menu is impressive, bearing American flags, photos of Nixon and Agnew, etc.

On the back there are biographical sketches of the new president and vice-president. As all but the most uninformed know, Nixon's middle name is Milhous. Unfortunately, the souvenir menu spells it "Mengouse." That's in big red letters at the top. In the text, it is spelled "Milhouse."

What makes the whole matter worse, and possibly more embarrassing for those responsible, is that the menu also carries this note at the very end: "Biography Courtesy Republican National Committee."

In a recent press release Sen. Frank Moss (D., Utah) reminds us that "the production of mink pelts is a major business in the state of Utah." (Ah, yes, and the use of mink pelts is a major business in Miami Beach.)

Secretary of State William P. Rogers may be new to the job, but it hasn't taken him long to learn the lingo of international befuddlement.

Check his answer, when asked how the peace talks were coming: "When we move from the procedural to the substantive, we inevitably encounter delays."

Bill Brown, the National Broadcasting Company's Moscow correspondent, spoke at the National Press Club and compared it with the Moscow Press Club, about which he said:

"The best thing about it," he said, "is that Americans are admitted only one night per week. First, you're shown a propaganda film, and, if you care to chance it, you can stay for dinner. It's a good restaurant, if your approach is quantitative. They do drink, but they seem to spill more on their neckties than they get down."

We have no monopoly on the Peace Corps idea. Norway has one, too.

A group of 25 Norwegian Peace Corpsmen, 15 men and 10 women, left Oslo recently for Kenya.

Only those who have seen less smooth White House transitions can appreciate the orderliness of this one, said Rep. Samuel S. Stratton (D., N.Y.). "Woodrow Wilson was hardly civil to Warren Harding as they rode to the Capital.

There was nothing but ice when the Roosevelts came to tea with the Hoovers. After the 1952 election Truman offered his personal plane to Ike to go to Korea, adding 'That is, if you still want to go.'"

Comes now Sen. William Proxmire (D., Wis.), who complains that the supersonic transport jet has already cost hundreds of millions of dollars and will cost four billion dollars before it's ready to go. He said we should end this project now and one of his reasons is: "Only advantage of the plane it would save overseas travelers four hours to Europe, ten to Asia."

Swell. By the same token, perhaps we shouldn't have bothered with jets; all they did was shave five hours off the run to Europe. Or why bother with planes at all? Ships are fast enough. (Sailing ships of course. All steam does is save time.)

Henry Sutton, the author, apparently is smarting from paying so much in taxes on his best-seller, "The Exhibitionist."

He dedicated his new book, "The Voyeur," to the Director of Internal Revenue. The dedication reads: "To Sheldon S. Cohen and all the guys in the office."

Allen-Goldsmith Report

Necessary trip?

John A. Goldsmith

WASHINGTON — While Commander Lloyd M. Bucher and his crewmen have been telling their stories to a court-of-inquiry, senators and congressmen have been raising questions which go beyond the compass of the Navy's Pueblo inquiry.

Central to many of the congressional queries, which have been swamping Navy liaison officers, are two questions: Who was finally responsible for the spy mission which saw the Pueblo steam unprotected into unfriendly waters? Was the electronic intelligence data to be obtained worth the clear risks involved?

Questions of this sort have been fostered by a memoradum, circulated by the staff, to members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Some of the members, including Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., have long been critical of the impact of intelligence operations on United States policy.

The memo contains some Pentagon data, and it is classified "secret". It can be reported quite safely, however, that the committee staff raises the question of how the government exercised command and control over the Pueblo's mission.

The memo presents the Pueblo's seizure as the most recent in a series of disastrous incidents in which intelligence operations caused great embarrassment to the United States. Listed as forerunners to the Pueblo incident are Russia's downing of the U-2 spy plane in 1960, the 1964 attack on U.S. destroyers in Tonkin Gulf, and the attack by Israeli forces on the spy ship Liberty, in 1967.

The memo questions whether the aims of these missions had been coordinated with the broader interests of U.S. policy. It also raises the question of what echelon of government officials made command decisions in connection with all the ill-fated operations.

Stressed by the memo is the confusion with which top government officials reacted when the missions went sour. It is reported, for example, that former Secretary of State Dean Rusk blamed the Arabs in the immediate aftermath of the Liberty attack, while former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara blamed the Russians.

Top-level approval

Whatever the fruits of a successful Pueblo mission might have been, all evidence indicates that the mission was approved, in concept at least, at a high government level.

In testimony last year, before the Senate Armed Services Committee, McNamara called the Pueblo's assignment "justified" even in hindsight. McNamara said that, while the mission was first proposed by field-level commanders, it was approved by their superiors and reviewed at the upper echelons of government.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the House military appropriations subcommittee, that the top-level government review included the Joint Chiefs.

Now it is being reliably reported here that the Pueblo's mission was, in fact, reviewed by the National Security Council. Such a review procedure is frequently followed in the case of sensitive intelligence operations.

Even if such was the case, however, some of the questions posed at the Capitol will need a more detailed answer. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee, has already asked why no protection, in the form of air cover, was available for the Pueblo.

For the present it appears unlikely that the Senate or House will order a special investigation of the Pueblo seizure. As of now, it appears that regular Armed Services committees will review the incident after the court-of-inquiry has completed its deliberations.

Both committees, Senate and House, are scheduled to start soon on their annual hearings on the state of the nation's military posture. Those hearings are a regular prelude to action on the Pentagon's annual authorization bill, but they often dwell at length on such irregular matters as the Pueblo incident.

That is the way Senate and House leaders want to handle it this time. The staff of the Senate's preprodness investigating committee, has been directed to keep up to date on the Navy investigation but to keep out of the inquiries for now.

Demands for closer scrutiny could change these plans, however, and set the stage for a special Pueblo inquiry, similar to the investigation by a special Senate subcommittee of ammunition shortages in the Korean war. The thoroughness and candor of the Navy court could be important here.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., a member of the Armed Services Committee, is already complaining that McNamara did not tell the committee last year that Bucher had requested devices for destroying his electronic equipment and that such destruct devices were denied him. Dominick wants to fix responsibility for turning down Bucher's request.

We are told that other ships have been denied vital equipment, or had requests sharply modified, on the same economy grounds cited to Bucher when he sought destruct devices for the Pueblo. Ships headed for duty off Vietnam have not been exempt from tight economy restrictions, according to reliable informants.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Support for Israel

Editor, The Record:

"The Jew" has been hated more than any other class of people; but God's favor is now with the Jew and will sustain them against all enemies of the entire world.

Luke 21:24 says "And they (Israel) shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all nations: And Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled."

Historians state that Israel's preservation as a nation while dispersed among the nations (Hosea 3:4) is one of the miracles of History: But it was the power of God!

All nations should understand this changed condition:

Zech 38:15, 16 said, "Thou shalt come out of thy place out of the North Parts (Europe and Asia are north of Palestine), thou and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses (mobile weapons), a great company, and a mighty army, and they shall come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land. It shall be in the latter days (Our times): And I will bring them against my land (first time as a nation) that the heathen (Arabs, Russia, etc.) may know me when I am sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes."

Today, The Pope, the United Nations (Largely heathen), Russia, etc. have condemned Israel for just reprisals against sneaky and murderous attacks by the Arabs, armed by Russia; and have appealed for sanctions against Israel by force of arms!

Zech 14:2, 3 says, "I will gather all nations against Israel to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go into captivity; and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. Then shall the Lord go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle!"

Jer 16:14-18, 21 describes the result of this battle of the near-future: "Behold, the day come saith the Lord that it shall be said no more, that the Lord liveth that brought up the children of Israel from Egypt: But the Lord liveth that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of the North (Russia, etc.), and from all the lands he hath driven them (During Gentile Times); and I will bring them into their own land, that I gave to their Fathers."

Ezek 21:20 says, "And then I will display my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see my judgments (against Israel) that I have then executed, and mine hand that I have laid upon them. And the House of Israel shall acknowledge (for the first time) that I am the Lord from that day and forward! And the nations shall then know that for their iniquity, did the House of Israel go into captivity (1969 years); because they transgressed against me (Romans 9:29): Therefore I hid my face from them, and gave them into the land of their enemies; and so fell they all by the sword, etc."

Our nation should keep on Israel's side under God's guidance!

Tax complaint

Editor, The Record:

Our honorable governor now talks of a wage tax in addition to what we are already burdened with.

As a taxpayer and average wage earner I would like to know what we have to do in order to put an end to spiraling taxes.

There are some in our society who revert to violent demonstrations, sitins and marches of some kind to be heard, and in some cases it pays off.

Is that what the average citizen should do to be heard?

Is it too much to ask our leaders to stabilize the economy?

Every time the taxes increase we, the average citizens, come closer to the so called poverty income level.

What is the answer?

Stones, cysts

Is it possible to have a family tendency to form cysts and stones in the body? Both my mother and I have had stones in the gall bladder and cysts of the ovaries.

Mrs. N. L., Pa.

Dear Mrs. L.: I doubt that there is any hereditary tendency to the formation of either of the conditions that you and your mother had. Patients frequently say that all their particular trouble seems to be on one side and question the possibility of some inherent weakness. This is not true and is simply a coincidence.

Cysts are pouches which contain fluid or semisolid material. They occur in all parts of the body and in many instances are due to a blockage of the tiny tube that leads from the cyst, resulting in accumulation of material. Cysts can occur in almost every organ of the body and are almost always non-cancerous. When they grow to a very large size and put pressure on neighboring organs, they are removed even though they are benign.

The tendency to form stones is probably unrelated to any genetic background. Since diet plays an important role in the formation of stones, especially in the gall bladder, there may be instances of this condition in members of the same family who usually eat the same foods.

Weekday Sports

NEW YORK — Two of television's all-time favorite personalities will celebrate their first on-camera reunion in more than three years when "Dick Van Dyke and the Other Woman," hour-long variety special, presents Dick Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore in a program of music, dance and comedy, Sunday, Apr. 13, at 8 p.m. on CBS Television.

The color broadcast, filmed in a setting of entertainment specials is covered by Van Dyke's long-term agreement with the CBS Television.

Van Dyke and Miss Moore co-starred as husband and wife on Dick Van Dyke Show", on the tube. He will be defending his title of Hope Classic crown.

Last year's leading money winner with $205,168, Casper, who ranks second to Palmer in the all-time money list with $904,805, will be shooting for his second Hope title. Casper won in 1965, placed fourth in 1966 and 1968.

Nicklaus number three on the total money chart with $846,531, will be making his first appearance in the Hope since 1966. Also a Hope Classic champion, Nicklaus put his name on the Eisenhower Trophy in 1963 after beating versatile talents in areas that are new for them as a team — dance numbers, songs, comedy routines, and specialty acts.

Special musical material will be created by Ray Charles. Music will be supervised and conducted by Jack Elliott and Allyn Ferguson. Donald McKayle has been signed as choreographer.

Additional cast members and production personnel will be announced later.

Since the conclusion of production of "The Dick Van Dyke Show," both Van Dyke and Miss Moore have been active in motion pictures. Miss Moore, under contract to Universal Studios, will soon co-star with Elvis Presley in "A Change of Habit."

Van Dyke's current motion picture release is "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang," filmed in England. He also is appearing in "The One With the Fuzz."

Palmer, a three-time Classic champ (1960-62-68) and frequent NBC-TV golf commentator, is the first professional to ring up a million dollars on the pro tour. He will be defending his title for the 19th time.

Gary Player in an 18-hole playoff at Indian Wells Country Club (Palm Desert, Calif.), lost club for the 1969 finals.

Challenging the "big three" for the 1969 Hope Classic title and a piece of the $122,000 prize money will be the colorful U.S. Open winner Lee Trevino, David Ogrin champ Gardner Dickinson, and last year's Masters winner Bob Goalby.

Classic champions Doug Sanders, in 1966, and Billy Maxwell, 1961, will both be trying for their second listing on Ike's Trophy.

She did it instead —

STROUDSBURG — With no school, meetings canceled, driving hazardous, and walking ranking with mountain climbing as a hazardous sport, the usual sources of social news were as dry as the weather was wet.

The question of the day then became "What did you do instead?" of whatever they had planned to do.

One thing they were doing was talking on the telephone. The number of busy signals was a factor in the length of time it took to make a telephone survey. Undoubtedly some of the calls were people seeking human contact from a home imprisoned by the gray bars of slanting rain and sleet.

There was also a lot of telephoning notifying people that the meeting, or bowling, or bridge club was being postponed, or telephone calls asking whether this was so.

Dr. Charlotte Jordan, who had offered her home for a meeting of the League of Women Voters, was on the receiving end of a lot of inquiries on that and on the sheduled meeting of the Mental Health Assn.

Fortunately, the family didn't have to eat any vast quantity of prepared food since that duty had been divided among a lot of members, whose families may have been surprised but not overwhelmed by some extra-special appetizers before dinner.

Families most effected by the cancellations, of course were those with school children.

"It made for a long day," Mrs. George Schimpf of Sand Hill noted, pointing out that the school-age children were up at 6:15 to hear the radio report of whether or not there would be school.

"Then they went yipping through the house, 'no school', and we found ourselves all up and looking at each other before 7 in the morning".

However, she made good use of the children by having them wash the windows, which not only kept them happily occupied but also resulted in windows which she hopes will look as clean when the sun shines through them.

An unexpected holiday for the children didn't change any plans for Mrs. Andrew Secor of 1 Secor Ave., East Stroudsburg. "It was just like having another Saturday. They played with their cars and trucks, and it was just an ordinary day".

Christmas toys and two January birthdays made this a good time for the Fetherman children to be home, Mrs. Alden Fetherman of East Stroudsburg RD 3, reported. She went shopping and her husband reported the children had spent the time in the basement making "things" with their new "Thingmaker" and had inveigled him into a game of ping pong.

Mrs. Carl Texter of Mountainhome had used the free day to go over the quarterly business reports while the children amused themselves with games and television.

"How did our mothers live through us, without television," wondered Mrs. Jay Martin of Delaware Water Gap. For her usual Thursday afternoon bowling she substituted a game of Scrabble with her daughter.

How did the teachers make out without the children? Just fine according to Mrs. Lloyd Geer of Mountainhome who had spent the day in desultory cleaning, letting the dog in and out, and sewing on some simple things for an expected grandchild.

Mrs. Ned Frick used the free day for making up of the end of the month treasurer's report for her church and welcomed an excuse to stay in to ward off what seemed to be a threatening attack of flu.

According to the informal survey, everybody was taking the second day of imprisoning weather in a row without any particular fuss or complaining.

That leaves only the people who didn't answer their telephones on the list of possible disgruntled. Make that probably disgruntled if the reason they didn't answer their phone was:

a) All the neighbor's children were there, too, and were making so much noise she couldn't hear the phone, or

b) She'd taken the car out and was stuck at the foot of the driveway with no ice skates to bring the groceries in.

Join around-the-world trip with Earl Groner

STROUDSBURG — The Monroe County Soroptimists accompanied Earl Groner on his trip around the world in retrospect at their January meeting held at the Motel Inn Towne.

Mr. Groner and his wife, Alice, traveled for 152 days with 30,000 flying miles, 12,000 driving miles and hundreds of miles of walking, enough to wear out three shoe sales.

Leaving New York, they flew to Honolulu, New Zealand, Australia, the Philippines, Hong Kong, India, Greece, Italy, Austria, Germany, England, Scotland and Wales.

They not only visited cities but drove through the countryside and small villages. Their conclusions: People are the same all over the world and have the same ideals and purposes.

In Australia, Groner, who is superintendent of the Stroudsburg School District, was interested in the fact that education is brought to the farthest sheep ranch by the radio school of the air.

A train, equipped with school facilities, visits the areas about twice a month with the children following classes by radio on a daily basis. After seventh grade, the child travels to the city schools.

Near Athens, Greece, the Groners visited George Metropolus Sr. who lived for many years in the Stroudsburg area and whose son is a member of the Stroudsburg district faculty. They received a warm welcome from Mr. Metropolus who was happy to hear about Monroe County and his friends here after an absence of five years.

Groner confessed they had both been bitten by the travel bug and hope to make many more trips after his retirement in July.

A short business meeting was held with Elizabeth Martin presiding. Reports on the fruit cake sale and the bedspread project were given with the proceeds to be applied to the nurse scholarship fund.

A spring rummage sale is planned with Betty Noack as chairman.

Parishioners name five to council

EAST STROUDSBURG — Five members were elected to the council of Grace Lutheran Church to serve three year terms at the annual congregational meeting held this week with Atty. Elmer D. Christine presiding.

Elected were Mrs. Nora Ehrig, deaconess; Arthur Schiebel Sr., Harry Hineline and Frank Buck, deacons; Henry F. Peters, trustee. They will be installed during the 11 a.m. service on Sunday.

Those completing three year terms on the vestry were Mrs. Mary Cortright, Sherwood Clapper, Clayton E. Heimbach Sr., Russell H. Rowe and John M. Eifenberger.

During the devotional period, the youth choir sang two selections with Mrs. Bona Michael as accompanist.

Favorable reports were given by the church organizations. Pastor William F. Wunder reported a high in benevolent giving for the parish in 1968 of $10,451.

The 1969 budget, presented by Russell T. Dotter, co-chairman of the finance committee, was adopted.

Depot show will benefit Biafra need

TOBYHANNA — A fashion show for Nigeria-Biafra relief is planned by the Tobyhanna Army Depot Officers' Wives Club to be held March 18 on the lobby of the depot's administration building.

Modeling the Spring clothes for young and more mature women, from the Alice Anne Shoppe, Stroudsburg, will be the officers' wives and some of their teen-age daughters.

"This is the first time the ramp of the administration building will be used for a fashion show," said Mrs. Paul Poulin, publicity chairman for the benefit, "but it's all in a very vital cause".

Special guest at the show will be Mrs. Jeanette LaBar, executive director of the Monroe County Chapter of Red Cross which is raising funds for the starving refugees of Nigera-Biafra as part of a nation wide campaign.

Just Between Us—

By Bobby Westbrook

So far, looking at our winter quite dispassionately, it's been about the most miserable one I can remember. We've had the discomfort of cold without the beauty of the snow; plenty of ice but weather too cold or too wet to make ice skating a thing of joy.

While the cold has kept the man-made snow ski-able on the ski slopes, the fact is that most people when they don't see snow, don't think ski-ing, so the area isn't making pots of money.

One saving grace is that up until now, the roads have stayed clear and driving has been possible, but with the mid-week ice storm even that grace vanished. As one man put it, "Snow causes accidents, too, but it's prettier and sort of muffles the sound of crunching fenders."

Well, I suppose we could grudgingly admit other advantages like the alternating freeze and thaw and general lack of snow in the mountains ought to lessen the danger of spring floods.

And it's been a great winter for oil, gas and coal companies who should have made enough to spend the rest of the winter in comfort in Florida.

Oh yes, and not so many people had heart attacks from shoveling snow. Otherwise, the best thing I can say about this winter is that it must be almost half over.

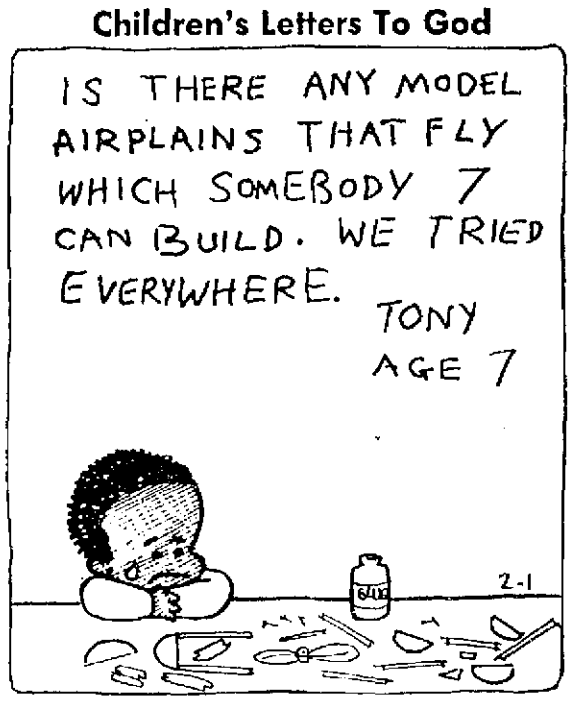
Children's Letters To God



Ann Landers

Husband acts juvenile

Dear Ann Landers: Our 14-year-old son is a little on the smart aleck side. He and his father are forever arguing. I am beginning to wonder who is at fault.

Last night my husband walked over to the chair where Buford was sitting and jerked the pillow from under his head. Buford's head hit the back of the chair and he bit his tongue. He yelled so loud the neighbors in the next apartment began to knock on the wall with a broom.

An hour later my husband yanked the footstool from under Buford's feet. At that point I took my husband aside and told him he should have asked the boy politely for the pillow and the footstool. His answer was, "The kid is not polite to me and I'll be darned if I'll cater to him. I'm going to give him the same treatment he dishes out."

Then my husband accused me of being on the boy's side and reminded me of the column you wrote about kids who play one parent against the other. I need to know if I am right or wrong, Ann.

CAUGHT IN BETWEEN

Dear Caught: Parents who complain about smart-mouth kids would do well to listen to themselves talk to their children. Youngsters speak as they are spoken to.

Your husband's behavior is juvenile. He should be setting an example for his son, not playing til for fat. And you can tell the big baby I said so.

Dear Ann Landers: Our next-door neighbors are fine people and we love them dearly. The problem is their two dogs. They take them every place. They are well-behaved miniature poodles but they are still dogs.

Several evenings a week we get together at our house to discuss the events of the day. We always end up having coffee and a snack in our kitchen. I'm a good pastry cook and I always have a delicious cake or pie or some cookies on hand. Four nights out of five last week, these neighbors fed my pastries to their dogs — right in front of me.

This really burns me up but I don't know if I should say anything. What do you say?

PASTRY CHEF FOR POODLES

Dear Chef: If it burns you up, say something. But be prepared for a dent in your relationship. People who behave that way think more of their dogs than they think of their friends and they'll let you know it.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister lives on the Coast with a man to whom she is not married. To make matters worse, she has two lovely children, both teen-agers.

I want to see my sister and the children, but I refuse to stay in that house unless the man moves out while I am there. Wouldn't you think she could ask her lover to stay somewhere else for a week? I suggested it and she said no.

Should I cancel my trip? I miss those kids like crazy.

AUNTIE MAME

Dear Mame: Go. And stay in a nearby motel. I agree with you that your sister's living arrangement is disgraceful, but you have no right to impose your standards on her.

Opening lead — Ten of spades.

It is impossible to arrive at the best contract on every deal you play, and anyone who contends otherwise is a fit subject for the men with the white coats.

When you consider that the next time you sit down to play you and your partner may be dealt any one of 5,157,850,293,780,050,462,400 possible combinations of hands, you realize that you are certain to miss the best final contract in at least a few billion of them.

This deal occurred in a match between Great Britain and Lebanon during the 1963 European championships. When the British held the North-South cards at the first table, the bidding went as shown.

West led a spade and declarer took the obvious twelve tricks. He lost a diamond, period. It is difficult to criticize North-South for having failed to reach the excellent slam they missed, since normal bidding methods would not reveal the enormous power wielded by South's singleton heart, North's singleton diamond, and South's singleton queen of spades.

Many players talk about the great advances made in bidding since the introduction of point count, but not nearly enough has been said about the importance of hands fitting or misfitting each other and the effect this has on the final outcome of a hand.

Thus, in the present case, North-South have a total of only 21 high-card points between them, and yet are overwhelming favorites to come home with twelve tricks.

You would think that the British North-South pair would either break even or lose points on the deal, but, actually, when their Lebanese counterparts at the second table held the North-South cards, the British gained 620 points on the hand because the bidding went:

Buffalo naming contest begins today

STROUDSBURG — Governor Raymond P. Shafer recently announced that he has asked the Pennsylvania Heart Association to conduct a contest naming his buffalo.

The Governor recently won the animal from Governor Robert Docking of Kansas over the outcome of the Orange Bowl football game. The Docklings will be delivering the two-year-old, full-grown bull buffalo sometime this month.

Dr. Eric A. Walker, who is president of the Pennsylvania State University and State chairman of the 1969 Heart Fund campaign, indicated the contest will be held beginning today to midnight, March 3, and will be open to persons of all ages who are residents of Pennsylvania.

Three prizes will be given. The first place winner will receive two season tickets to Penn State home football games, a football autographed by the Bowl-winning Penn State team, a trip to Harrisburg to place a plaque with the winning name on the buffalo's pen plus a Heart award indicating their selection was winner.

Attractive second and third prizes will be announced later. A jury of prominent Pennsylvanians will be selected to judge the entries on the basis of originality and aptness of thought.

The contest rules specify that each person may sumit one name for the buffalo. In case of duplication, the entry with the earliest postmark will be considered. Contestants may include a contribution to The Heart Fund with their entry; the gift will be shared with the local Heart chapter. However, the contribution is not a requisite for entering the contest nor will it be considered in the judging.

Liquid fuels tax accounts audited for four boroughs

(Record Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — Four Monroe County boroughs whose liquid fuels tax accounts have been audited by the State Auditor General's Department have gained departmental approval.

Auditor General Grace M. Sloan listed the four boroughs under audit as Delaware Water Gap, East Stroudsburg, Mount Pocono and Stroudsburg.

Delaware Water Gap

The Delaware Water Gap audit shows that during the 1967 calendar year, $1509.70 was received from the State Motor License Fund, which coupled with a January 1, 1967 balance of $2,383.77 gave the borough a total of $3,893.47. Expenditures during the year totaled $2,795.77 including $36 in wages, $2,383.77 in materials and $376 in equipment rentals, leaving a December 31, 1967 balance of $1,097.70 in the fund.

East Stroudsburg

In the case of East Stroudsburg, the audit report showed the borough starting the year 1967 with a balance of $11,199.23, with receipts from the State Motor License Fund during 1967 amounting to $14,713.20 and $124.35 from other sources (refund — duplicate payment), for a fund total of $26,036.78. Of this amount however, $17,658.90 was spent during the year — $7762.90 in wages, $7,209.90 in materials and $2,686.10 in equipment rentals, leaving a balance at the beginning of 1968 of $8,377.88.

Mount Pocono

Mount Pocono spent $4,574.61 in State Motor License Fund monies from its account, according to the audit, breaking down into $4,275.82 in wages and $298.79 in materials. The fund started the year 1967 with a balance of $2,711.18, received $3,610.92 from the state fund during the year, thus ending the year with a balance of $1,747.49, according to the audit.

Stroudsburg

The borough of Stroudsburg received $11,730.64 from the State Motor License Fund during 1967, according to the AG audit, which with a balance of $1,814.49 at the beginning of the year gave the borough a total of $13,545.13. Rhodesian minister to speak at South Sterling churches

NEWFOUNDLAND — A black Rhodesian who escaped with his life from his native country, and who cannot return home, will speak on Race Relations Sunday, Feb. 9, at the three churches of the South Sterling United Methodist Charge.

He is Rev. Crispin G. Mazobere, now in this country studying at the Boston School of Theology on a World Council of Churches Scholarship. He will be granted his master's degree in May of this year, and is already undertaking work toward his doctorate in Christian Social Ethics.

While in Boston, he is also serving as interim pastor of St. Mark's Church, Roxbury.

Mazobere was accepted for the Methodist ministry in the former Southern Rhodesia (now Rhodesia) District of the British Methodist Church in 1954 after theological training at the Epworth Theological Seminary in Salisbury.

Following his training, he served in the Salisbury (Plumtree) Circuit and was pastor of 17 churches in addition to being chaplain to the Tegerane Secondary School. Four of the churches he served were in Bechuanaland Protectorate, now called Botswana.

Rev. Crispin G. Mazobere

After his pastoral ministry in Salisbury, Mazobere taught on the staff of the Old Umtali Biblical Institute. His field was lay training for full time lay workers for American and British Methodist Churches, and also for the Presbyterian Church.

Upon returning to Afrien, Mazobere undertook further studies at the Epworth Theological Seminary and then became a staff lecturer. Always deeply interested in the political life of his nation, he took an active part in African political affairs and became chairman of Christian Action in Salisbury. His outspoken Christian leadership made it necessary for him to leave Rhodesia in 1965, and it is now impossible for him to return.

In addition to speaking on Feb. 9 at LaAnna, South Sterling and Hemlock Grove United Methodist Churches, he will address an informal meeting at the Gouldsboro Methodist Church on Feb. 8.

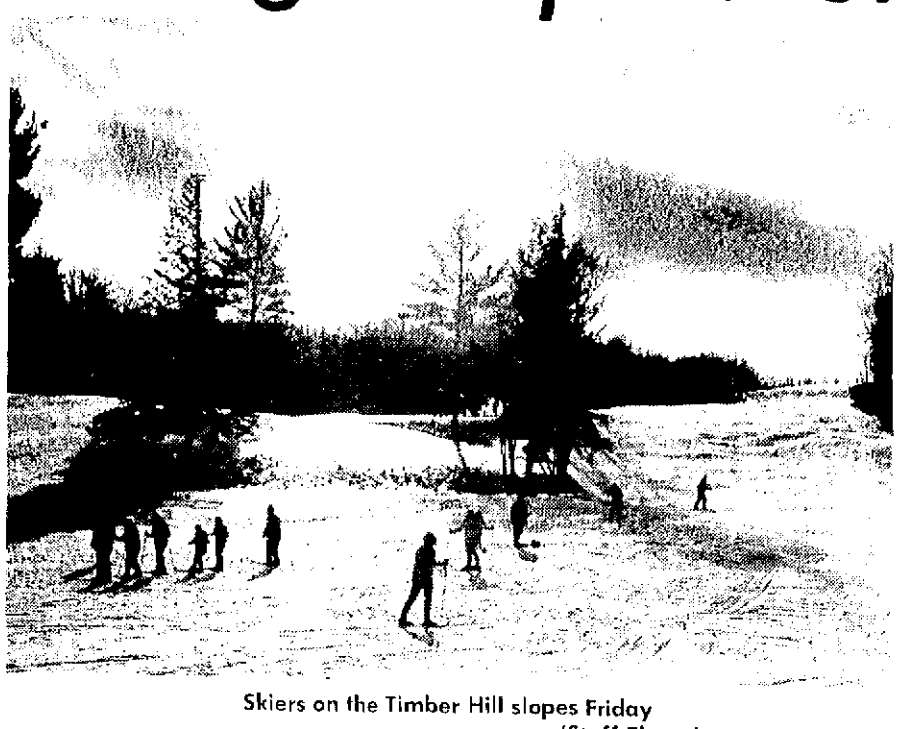
Rising temperatures, rain hampering area skiers



Skiers on the Timber Hill slopes Friday
(Staff Photo by MacLeod)

By PETE GRADY
Pocono Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — Area ski resorts are keeping their barometers and thermometers crossed in hopes that both weather indicators will remain on the "downside" to bring back the snows of 1966 to 67, 60 inches and 1960 to 61, 100 inches.

Two months remain, February and March, in which a prolonged cold spell could keep the snow machines churning out the white gold that all but glitters for Pocono-Mountain ski resort managers. Better yet, of course, would be snow, snow and more real snow.

But as far as this winter goes, without snow machines area ski trails would no doubt be restricted to hardy hikers searching for a mountain flower or a winter view of the Poconos thinly garbed in their bleak grey dress.

The last four area weekend weather reports read like a typical November in England.

Friday, Jan. 24. Cloudy and mild with occasional rain, high between 44 and 50.

Friday, Jan. 17. Mostly cloudy; occasional rain likely, possibly starting as sleet or freezing rain.

Friday, Jan. 10. Scattered snow flurries—they turned out to be very scattered.

Friday, Jan. 3. Increasing cloudiness.

In the last two days, fog and drizzle has turned the Poconos into a huge cold steam vaporizer.

And yet even in the midst of this winter season stingy on cold temperatures and snow, reports here and there indicate that a few ski resorts are thriving.

Marilyn Hertz, Big Boulder Ski Area school director, said despite the plague of rain and fog and recent mild temperatures, Big Boulder is having the best year in its 23 year history.

"We made snow every night last week," Miss Hertz said explaining that due to Big Boulder's 2,000 foot elevation temperatures are usually six to eight degrees below other Pocono Mountain ski resort readings.

Big Boulder has been making artificial snow since 1950, Miss Hertz said. "We were one of the first ski areas in the world to make artificial snow," she added. According to Miss Hertz the only other ski area to make artificial snow before Big Boulder was a ski resort in Argentina.

Buck Hill ski area manager Harry Drennan summed up Wednesday night's and Thursday's fog as a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

When the fog lasts only a few hours it breaks up the icy crust on top of the snow, and that's good, Drennan said referring to the kindly Dr. Jekyll.

But when fog lasts for more than 24 hours, it'll eat up snow faster than rain said Drennan, alluding to Mr. Hyde.

"Buck Hill's been able to operate skiing facilities on weekends since Christmas but not under the most ideal conditions," Drennan said. "In fact this winter has been anything but ideal."

Drennan reported no snow mobiling at Buck Hill for the past two weeks. "There's nothing we can do about that except wait for more snow," he said.

Big Boulder, Buck Hill, Elk Mountain, Camelback, Timber Hill, Wolf Hollow and other Pocono Mountain ski areas are all looking forward to snow clad weekends from now through the end of March.

And it doesn't make any difference how it comes down or goes up, either from mother nature or the snow blowers, just as long as there's enough of the white stuff to fill the trails and slopes.

Ill health forcing Kresge to quit highway position

EAST STROUDSBURG — Dr. Evan C. Reese, Monroe County Republican Party chairman, Friday announced the appointment of Bruce Anderson, East Stroudsburg R.D. 3, as the successor to Harold Kresge, Tobyhanna, as an administrative officer in Department of Highways, District Five, Allentown.

The appointment was made due to Kresge's retirement.

Kresge said, "I don't know when my retirement will become effective. My letter has been sent and my superiors are acting on it."

"I am retiring due to ill health. I have been off the payroll for quite some time. In fact since my sick leave has expired. I know that my health will not permit me to return to my work in Allentown," he concluded.

Harold Kresge

Anderson, who said he has not been active in politics except for the Bartlett-Rooney election, is a Monroe County man although he has been away from the area for many years.

He graduated from East Stroudsburg High School and in 1943 left for a position in Washington, D.C. He left the Central Intelligence Agency in 1963 to return to the Pocono Mountains.

Anderson, with some 18 years of government work behind him, accepted a position with Alpha Portland Cement Co., Easton, in 1963.

At the cement company, Anderson was assistant advertising manager and worked in the public relations department too. He left that position to work for Fred Warring Enterprises, a position he held until named administrative officer in the Department of Highways, District Five, Allentown.

Anderson said he does not plan moving from the area and will travel to and from Allentown daily.

Dr. Floyd W. Shafer, Habtman of Stroudsburg Ground hog Lodge, checks the ground hog and finds the rodent physically sound to emerge from hibernation on Sunday, which is Ground Hog Day. Joseph Altemose, lodge geldhaver, appears relieved to hear the news.

E.S. mayor not seeking third term

By BOB GROFF
Pocono Record Reporter

EAST STROUDSBURG — East Stroudsburg Mayor Thomas B. Kistler announced Friday that he will not run for re-election in the May primary race for the borough's top political spot.

The Republican mayor for the past eight years said, "I am on my eighth year and I think that will be enough. I am not as young as I was when I went in for the first time."

"It has been a fine experience and I certainly enjoyed it. I'm not leaving for any other reason except that I have served two terms and I think that is enough," he said.

Kistler concluded, "I would like to be able to see a lot of things through which I helped to start, but I think a younger man should handle them now."

Two candidates

Two candidates have publicly announced their intentions to file for the mayorality race.

First Ward Councilman Kenneth Knierim Friday said that he would definitely file for mayor as soon as the petitions come out. Knierim will be running on the Democratic ticket.

On the Republican side, former Sixth Ward Councilman William H. Schnaitman also announced Friday that he was going to file a petition for mayor.

"Only a last minute decision on my part would cause me to change my mind. All indications right now are that I am going through with it," said Schnaitman.

Schnaitman served residents of the Sixth Ward on council from 1962 to 1966. He was also president of council for half of his four year term.

Hunt report

Fifth Ward Democratic Councilman Pearly Hunt is one of those rumored to be interested in the top spot.

Hunt said Friday that he wasn't ready to express himself on the subject, but he did admit that he was giving consideration to the matter.

"If I do run, I know I can win. I've learned a lot of things since the last time I ran for mayor," he added.

Hunt, now in his third consecutive term as the Fifth Ward councilman, opposed Kistler in the 1964 primary election. Kistler's margin of victory was just slightly more than 60 votes.

Republican Councilman George Stettler of the Fourth Ward is another rumored to be on the verge of throwing his hat into the ring.

And still another possibility for the job has been Travis Seese, county detective. Seese said Friday, "I know my name has been floating around, but it has not been through my own initiative. At the present time, I am just not interested."

Knierim's decision to run for mayor will leave his seat on the council vacant. He currently represents the First Ward.

Other seats on council left up for takers will be the Third Ward and the Sixth Ward.

Democrat Wade Arnst, Third Ward, said that he feels strongly that he will run again, but he had not yet fully made up his mind. "I don't have any reason why I shouldn't," said Arnst.

Council President Ray Lloyd, Democrat, Sixth Ward, was out of town Friday and was unable to be contacted.

Thirst of students' opinion spawns underground paper

By BERT WALTER
Pocono Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — High School teenagers have a new "bag."

It's called "opinion."

The opinion is like a psychedelic commentary on national, world and school events.

The opinion—an example of collectivisism among the teenage set—is in the form of underground newspapers.

The idea began somewhere and then it mushroomed like a chain letter.

Stroudsburg became another link in the underground chain with the publication of its first "The Last Word" newspaper.

"The Last Word" originated as a thought between Stephen Szilagyi Jr. of Stroudsburg R.D. 1, and R.D. Everitt of 62 Broad St., Stroudsburg.

The two 16-year-old juniors then saw the underground newspapers published in the Bethlehem area.

"We just thought it out one day" Everitt said. Then they decided to do it.

Moved fast

"We moved rather fast," Szilagyi said. They purchased a mimeograph machine—the location of which is secret—put together a staff of 10 and published the first issue.

The first issue, circulated last week, hit the Stroudsburg Area School like a storm. A total of 225 copies were distributed and more than 400 willl be distributed when next week's issue is published.

"The Last Word" is only the first of many words which will reach the minds of Stroudsburg's student populace—and the adults alike, the publishers hope. Publication is hoped to be bi-weekly.

The newspaper is designed to give high school students a broader scope and, "a magazine of art, pose and poetry. We shall give our readers a fresh breath of air," the paper's printed "purpose" reveals.

The first "fresh breath of air" issue included a few quotations from Chairman Mao Tse Tung such as "War is the continuation of politics. In this sense war is politics and war itself is a political action."

The issue also contained such poetry as: "I'm sorry has such a hallow ring, But yet say it all the time. Whoever's soul I'm sorry for, Always ends up being mine!

"The Last Word" is not controlled by Everitt nor Szilagyi, but by the staff of 10 which meets collectively and decides collectively what opinions and commentary should be in the next issue.

Szilagyi Friday night revealed the names of five other staff members. The remaining three could not be contacted by Szilagyi for their approval of being identified. The five are Steve Haney, Thomas Young, William Lear, Bruce Cox, and Eric Jensen. All are juniors except for Lear who is a senior.

Aside from the philosophical commentary of "The Last Word's" stated purpose, Everitt said that in a nutshell, the newspaper is designed "to arouse interest among students" and "to stir them up."

The first issue did some stirring up, Everitt and Szilagyi were quick to admit.

On the newspaper's last page, there were painted busts of males and females saying just plain words like "Nude" and "Candy" and "Drop in sometime." The reason for these were just to get reactions on word associations.

Next week's issue will be larger and the cost has jumped from five to 10 cents. In the issue will be a poem by Eugene McCarthy.

In the future, the staff of 10 hopes to submit questions to legislators on the state and federal government and print the answers.

Everitt and Szilagyi both are members of the school newspaper, "The Mountaineer." Other "The Last Word" staffers are also on "The Mountaineer."

Szilagyi said there is no conflict between the two and explained the two serve different purposes. As editor of "The Mountaineer," Szilagyi was quick to defend the school newspaper. But he was also quick to defend "The Last Word" and explain its need in the school community.

Szilagyi also said the underground paper is divorced from the school as an activity and added "There's no reason for concern on the part of the admisistration"

James W. Hantjis, principal, isn't concerned. "The publication is not a school project and not permitted on school property" Hantjaj said.

"The people, and the people alone are the motivating force in the making of world history," was a Mao Tse Tung quote in the first issue and the quote seems to exemplify that the teenagers are a motivating force.

Winter or spring?

Grundsow Daag Sundaag

STROUDSBURG — Tall tales of "die alt groe grundsow" will be told among the local Pennsylvania Germans as they get ready for the traditional search of one of nature's living weather forecasters on Sunday — Groundhog Day (or Grundsow Daag).

The legend of the grundsow says that if he emerges from his hole, sees his own shadow (which requires sunlight) and returns to his hole, a severe winter will follow for another six weeks. If there is no shadow and he stays out of the hole an early spring is expected.

Pennsylvania Germans relive each year the centuries of the Groundhog Sagas of their European ancestors.

There are only 15 Grundsow Lodges in Pennsylvania and two are still kept active in Monroe County: Lodge Nummer Sexa on da Pohopoco which is lodge six in the West End and Lodge Nummer Zae on da Braid Keppicha Grick, Shtroudsbarrik, which is number 10 on the Broadheads Creek in Stroudsburg.

During the banquets, only the peculiar German is spoken and thought.

The menu, or Fuder Tzettle is also kept traditional and lists ham and sausage (hame groescht Schuungflaysh un Hame gamochta Wesht).

The local lodges have scheduled separate "fersommlings."

The West End Lodge Six will have its banquet on Thursday, Feb. 13 in Towamensing Feier Kuumpni, Trachsville on Rt. 209. Rev. Clarence Rahn of Temple and Donald Breininger, of New Tripoli, member of Kutztown Lodge 15 will be guest speakers.

Stroudsburg's Lodge 10 will hold its outing on Thursday, March 13 in West End Feier Kuumpni, Brodheadsville, Rt. 715. Rev. Rahn and Dr. Robert Opplinger, habtman of Lodge One, Allentown will be guest speakers.

Gap opposes school closing

DELAWARE WATER GAP — The Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce Friday night voted unanimously to oppose the closing of the Delaware Water Gap School.

The closing of the school has been recommended by the Stroud Union School District for financial reasons.

The school serves grades one through four and has an enrollment of 24 children.

Stephen Matos proposed the formation of an autonomous Delaware Water Gap tourist promotion bureau which would act as a subsidiary of the chamber of commerce.

The proposal will be submitted to all members of the chamber for their approval. Matos said the bureau would work along similar lines of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau.

Secretary Vernon Gunn announced that Rocky Glen Park, Moosic, Pa., had donated 40 free ride tickets to each of the two winners of the events at the Delaware Water Gap Winter Festival held earlier this month.

The winners of the events were Ricky Widdoss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Widdoss, and Rodney Baechtold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Baechtold.

In other council action, it was announced that all Chamber of Commerce officers were re-elected to serve in their same capacity for 1969. Harold C. Crossdale was re-elected president; Arthur Lehr, vice president; Vernon Gunn, secretary; and Elsa Matos, treasurer.

Layton Osborn and Carl Reiche were re-elected to serve as directors of the chamber and Adolph Schmitt was appointed to serve as the third director.

STROUDSBURG — Monroe County Commissioner Mrs. Nancy B. Shukaitis announced Friday that the specifications for the bidding of the county's insurance policy have been completed and the commissioners are expected to take action on the matter during the coming week.

STROUDSBURG — Stroudsburg opened its second half season in the Lehigh Valley League the same way it opened the first Friday night, bowing to Catasauqua.

The Rough Riders broke open a close game with a string of 12 straight points late in the third period and went on to a 70-55 win. The defeat was the sixth straight for the Mounties.

Down by 33-28 at halftime the Mounties scored the first four points of the second half on baskets by Mel Abel and Dave Crane. The host five then stayed within four points until late in the period.

Leading 44-40, Catasauqua reeled off 12 straight points and increased its lead to 56-40 before Abel halted the spree about two minutes into the final period.

Stroudsburg did managed to reduce the gap to 56-46 but the Riders scored the next five to lead, 61-46.

Four players were in twin figures for the winners with Walt Winch showing the way with 16. Rick Gemmel added 15, Mike Fetuel 14 and Andy Ondush 11.

Abel, with 14, and Weber, with 13, were the only Mounties in double figures.

First period

The Mounties broke a 1-1 tie on back-to-back field goals by Mel Abel and Scott Young to take a 5-1 lead.

Following ties at 5, 7 and 9 the Mounties moved out to a 12-9 lead on a foul and Marvin's jumper. After Walt Winch hit a 25-footer Abel converted a three-point play to give S-burg a 15-11 lead.

Catasauqua then scored the final three-points of the period, the last two at the buzzer to cut the margin to 16-15 after the first eight minutes.

EAST STROUDSBURG — A 24-point second period carried Wilson to a 68-55 win over East Stroudsburg Friday night as the Lehigh-Northampton League opened its second half race.

Ziegler (139) leads Jack by stroke in San Diego

SAN Diego, Calif. (UPI)— Larry Ziegler, who learned how to play the game from a former champion, shot a three under par 69 at sunny but windy Torrey Pines Friday to take the second round lead by a stroke in the $165,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open with a 36-hole score of five under par 139.

The 29-year-old native of St. Louis now in his third year on the pro tour, was among the early starters in the second round and his 69 stood off all challengers, including first round leader Jack Nicklaus, who slipped from a 69 to an even par 72.

Ziegler, one of former U.S. Open champ Ed Furgol's brightest pupils, never has won a tourney title. His best finish was a tie for 11th place at the Los Angeles Open three weeks ago.

Veteran Gene Littler had a second round 72 to stand all alone in third place at two-under 142 and Dick Lotz, the Alameda Open winner, and Bob Charles of New Zealand tied for fourth at 143. Lotz had a 71 in the second round and Charles had a 69.

The wind came up on the seaside Torrey Pines municipal layout around noon and the scores soared along with the breeze. Jack Montgomery was one of those unaffected as he turned in the day's best round—a 68—which put him in a group tied at even par 144.

The others at 144 were Dave Eichelberger, Bob Smith, Dow Finsterwald, Harold Henning, Bruce Devlin, Paul Harney and U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino, who improved from an opening 75 to 69.

Two other players shot 69—Art Wall and Ron Cerrudo. Billy Casper went from 72 to 75 while George Archer, who won the Crosby title earlier in the week, went from 73 to 74 for 147.

The cut to the low 70 and ties for the final two rounds was made at 150 and among those who just squeezed in were PGA champ Julius Boros

Ted's Tidbits

By TED WISMER
Sports Editor

There are so many key bouts in tonight's Lock Haven-East Stroudsburg State wrestling match that coach Red Witman refuses to go out on a limb.

"This year there aren't too many bouts where there is a clear-cut favorite. You just don't know what kids will do," Witman added.

The exception has to be at 123 pounds, where Lock Haven's Ken Melchoir, a NCAA champion at 115 last year, who is possibly the toughest in the country at his weight.

Witman went down the Bald Eagle lineup and made some comments on some of their outstanding boys.

Don Fay at 115 is considered one of the future stars by his coach Greg Simon. Working with Melchoir is making him even better.

Shane Foley at 130 is a consistant wrestler and is very tough underneath.

Larry Rippey at 137 is probably the most improved boy on the team.

Paul Brodmerkle at 145 gave Jerry McDonald a very rough time in the Coast Guard Tournament.

* * *

The match-ups for tonight are expected to be as follows: Fay and Ted Pease at 115; Melchoir and Frank Coco or Ray Manmiller at 123; Foley and Tom Best at 130; Rippey and Tony Ptak at 137; Brodmerkle and Dan Rossi, Tom Huber or Jerry McDonald; Barry Rhodes and Huber, McDonald or John Pitzer at 152; Gene Tazis and Bob DeVore, Chris Greening at 160; Bill Radford and DeVore, Fred Epler or Greening at 167; Bob Metz and Greening or Epler at 177; Hank Hawkins and John Felder or Tom Kizis at 191 and Scott Brooks and Rich Schumacher at heavyweight.

The certain status of Jerry McDonald and an injury to co-captain Dan Rossi are the reasons for Witman's giving two or more names at some weights.

Rossi injured a knee Wednesday night at Oswego and was unable to work out at all Thursday. For that reason, Witman has gotten Huber down to 145 and Pitzer to 152. Greening is just getting back into shape following an operation and Witman is uncertain if he's ready.

Lock Haven is currently rated second among Eastern teams behind Navy. ESSC is seventh with Bloomsburg ranked sixth.

* * *

Starting next year there will be only 10 weight classes and Witman is all for the idea. The 115 and 191-pound classes have been optional and it makes it too rough on some teams.

The new classes will be 118, 126, 134, 142, 150, 158, 167, 177, 191 and unlimited.

Barber wins car for hole-in-one

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) Miller Barber scored a hole-in-one in the second round of the Andy Williams-San Diego Open golf tournament Friday to win a 1969 automobile.

Barber, who earned more than $105,000 on the tour last year and already has $16,000 in the bank this year, got his ace on the 186-yard par-three 16th hole at the Torrey Pines Municipal Court.

AL to try four rule changes during spring training

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baseball's rules committee Friday approved four American League experimental spring training rules and authorized four minor leagues to use experimental rules during the 1969 regular season schedule.

The nine-man committee gave approval to four rules, two concerning pinch-hitters, one a pinch-runner and another involving an intentional base on balls, for use by the American League during the 1969 spring training season.

The experimental rules were approved on the stipulation that the team wishing to use the rules must advise its opponent 48 hours in advance.

The American League rule changes for spring training are as follows:

1. A pinch-hitting specialist may be designated prior to the game by the manager and used twice during the game. He may bat for anyone in the lineup and the player may return to his defensive position after being batted for. The pinch-hitter can be used only in that capacity and not as a fielder.

2. A pinch-hitter, designated prior to the game, may bat for a pitcher as many times as the pitcher is scheduled to bat. There is no limit to the number of times he may hit for the pitcher.

3. A pinch-running specialist, designated by the manager before the game, may be used only twice. The player for whom he entered the game can remain in his defensive capacity and the pinch-running specialist cannot be used in the field.

In the case of an automatic base on balls, the defensive team must only notify the umpire and the catcher and the batter is motioned to first base. The ball is declared dead until the batter reaches first base and the pitcher assumes his position in the rubber.

Four minor leagues—International, Eastern, Texas and New York-Penn—were authorized experimental rules changes for use during the regular season.

The triple-A International League was given permission to use a "wild card" pinch hitter for the pitcher. The pitcher is not obligated to bat at all. The "wild card" batter must be so designated prior to the game. There is no limit to the number of times the batter may pinch-hit for a pitcher and the pitcher may remain in the game. Should the manager at any time pinch hit for the "wild card" man, the designated hitter is out of the game and the new man becomes the "wild card" pinch-hitter.

In the Eastern League, a Class-AA group, the ruling is similar to that of the International League except that a manager may designate his "wild card" hitter any time during the game. He may bat for the pitcher and the pitcher may remain in the game.

The Class-AA Texas League was authorized a pinch-hitter who can bat for anyone in the lineup any number of times during the game. The pinch-hitter may bat for any player in every inning if the manager so decides but not twice in the same inning unless the team bats around the lineup. The designated pinch-hitter may not be used as a fielder and retain his "wild card" status. Should the manager decide to use him in the filed, he must be inserted defensively immediately after his last pinch hitting appearance.

The Class A New York-Penn League may have a pinch hitting specialist, but he must be designated in the starting lineup as a "10th man." He may be used only twice during a game, but not twice in the same inning. The designated pinch-hitter may bat for anyone in the lineup with the man batted for eligible to return to the field defensively. The manager may pinch hit for his pinch hitter. The "10th man" in the lineup is then out of the game and the player who batted for him does not assume the same powers as the designated pinch hitter.

John McHale drops out of commissioner race

MONTREAL (UPI) — Baseball's club owners figure to have one less name to consider Tuesday when they meet at Miami to select a new commissioner.

John McHale, president of the expansion Montreal Expos, who was a leading candidate when the owners failed last month to name a successor to William D. Eckert, revealed Friday he has taken definite steps to remove himself from further consideration for baseball's No. 1 job.

McHale announced he has written to members of the American and National Leagues, saying he "greatly appreciated" the 11 AL votes he received at last month's meeting in Chicago. However, he also said that despite rumors to the contrary, he wishes to remain in his present post as president of the Expos.

"It is my hope that by clearly eliminating myself from further consideration, we will be able to concentrate on a candidate at the Feb. 4 meeting who is available and qualified to serve," McHale said.

Mike Burke, president of the New York Yankees, and Chub Feeney, vice president of the San Francisco Giants, reportedly are the two leading candidates to replace Eckert, who resigned under pressure from club owners at the winter meetings in December at San Francisco.

Baseball's rules state that for a man to be elected commissioner he must have the approval of three quarters of the clubs in each league. Petty league jealousies at last month's Chicago meeting, which lasted 20 hours, prevented McHale, Burke or Feeney from gaining the necessary number of votes.

Rumors persist that some owners would like to go outside of baseball for the sport's next commissioner and the name most frequently mentioned in this connection is Vince Lombardi, the former successful coach and present general manager of football's Green Bay Packers. But it is doubtful if enough owners could be persuaded to dip into a sport which is rapidly surpassing baseball in popularity.

JIM MURRAY

Mike is right

WILMINGTON, Del.—There are those who think baseball needs a new commissioner like Yul Brynner needs a haircut or Zsa Zsa Gabor a new husband. There's already been too many.

In the first place, the game already has a commissioner — Walter O'Malley. Besides, it's been 50 years since we had a fixed World Series. As far as we know, anyway.

Michael Burke who is chairman of the board of the New York Yankees — the only baseball team which would have such a title — thinks otherwise. He thinks the game needs a commissioner like a guy turning blue needs a heart transplant.

The grand old game turns 100 this year. And some people detect arterio-sclerosis. Mike Burke went to a Yankee game last year where only 412 other people showed up. Some of them sat there as if it was a lobotomy.

The game, like much of America, is a victim of affluence. New franchises brought fresh money, and fresh money brought new antiseptic ball parks where the biggest excitement of the night was a foul-out.

Babe Ruth saved the game the last time around, but the resident management expected the relief pitcher or the expert bunter to save it this time. There's nothing less exciting than a one-hit game. A strike zone that began at the eyebrows and extended to the ankles put the game in a position where a 3-and-2 count constituted a rally.

It has been the habit of baseball to reach out in its years of crisis and hire out-of-work politicians or fading military heroes to administer it. Predictably, they have been as effective as a park statue of William Tecumseh Sherman. The game drifted on a sea of apathy. People broke down doors to get to watch football. You couldn't send a car for them for baseball.

If ever a game needed a man on horseback in a hurry, it was baseball as it entered its second century. It was becoming the national no-time. It didn't need another administrator so motionless you could scratch matches on him or pigeons would perch on his shoulders.

Mike Burke is the kind of military hero this generation would understand. He didn't get his Purple Heart from a stapling machine accident. The enemy wasn't something he read about in triplicate on mimeograph. Mike parachuted behind enemy lines in the OSS. He worked the Hollywood run as a technical adviser on a flick called "Cloak and Dagger."

Mike is Show Biz. And so is baseball. It must compete for the dollar, for the athlete, for equal time on TV. It needs to shed its stock brokerage image and get back to its "Get ahead, ya bum ya!" heritage.

Adversity sometimes fits a man better than triumph. Mike Burke did not come into baseball in its handlebar mustache era when it was the only game in town. Mike came in at a time when he was one of a crowd you could count with your fingers in a ball park where football had to cut off the season-ticket sale at 50,000.

Mike knows baseball has to roll up its sleeves, or turn up its toes. Mike doesn't belong to the fossil generation — and has the haircut to prove it. He could double as Prince Valiant between trips to the barber. He doesn't crumple under pressure. Jimmy Hoffa tried to close the circus on him for four years, but all he did was wipe out a couple of matinees.

He's so right for the job, naturally, baseball rejected him. O'Malley & Co. are presumably casting around for Gen. Pershing. A couple of more backward steps and Gen. Custer will be perfect for the job.

As a sportswriter, I like to see the game latch on to a Col. Blimp or two. I mean, everyone needs a laugh. As a baseball fan, a believer that the game is more uniquely American than any other and will outlast all of them if it's not slain in its sleep, I see a Mike Burke as a guy who can lead a seventh inning rally.

Houston picks first in free agent draft

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Houston Astros, tailenders in the National League last season, will have first choice and the Washington Senators, last in the American League, will choose second Saturday in baseball's fourth annual free agent draft.

The order of selection in the regular phase of the draft will be conducted in inverse order of the combined standings of both leagues. The four expansion clubs will select players last, with the Montreal Expos picking 21st, followed by the Kansas City Royals, San Diego Padres and Seattle Pilots.

The Detroit Tigers, as world champions, will draft last. St. Louis the National League Champion, will have 19th choice, just before the Tigers.

The regular phase, involving players not previously drafted, will begin at 10 a.m. (EST). The secondary phase, involving players previously drafted but not signed by any major league club, will follow after a short recess.

A total of 128 players were selected in last winter's regular phase draft, with only 48 signing pro contracts. In last summer's baseball draft, 713 players were picked, with 437 signing contracts.

Under a new four-year college rule, players in four year colleges will not be chosen. Players eligible will be those in junior colleges, high school graduates and other non-college players.

The order of selection in the secondary phase was by lot. St. Louis will select first, followed by the New York Yankees. The Chicago White Sox have the last pick in the secondary phase.

The four expansion teams, as in the regular phase, will choose last, with San Diego draft 21st and Seattle, Montreal and Kansas City.

Almost 30 players selected in the baseball draft sprinkled major league rosters last season. The rookies of the year from both leagues, Stan Bahnsen of the New York Yankees and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati, were selected in the free agent draft along with pitchers Tom Seaver and Nolan Ryan of the New York Mets, outfielders Reggie Jackson and Rick Monday of Oakland, pitcher Kenny Holtzman and Joe Niekro of the Chicago Cubs and pitcher Jim Hardin of Baltimore

Vince headed for Washington

DETROIT (UPI)—Green Bay Packers' General Manager Vince Lombardi will announce soon he is leaving to become GM, coach and part owner of the Washington Redskins, a Detroit sportscaster has learned.

Lombardi, who only last season gave up his coaching duties with the Packers because he felt the dual role was too much to handle, "may deny this up and down because they (Lombardi and Washington) aren't ready to announce this yet," Bob Reynolds of radio station WJR said Friday.

One of the National Football League's most winning coaches in history, Lombardi has been oft-rumored to be leaving Green Bay for less successful franchises in trouble if a stock deal could be worked out.

Flyers send out Favell

Doug Favell

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—General manager Bud Poile of the Philadelphia Flyers, bombed 12-0 by the Chicago Hawks Thursday night, sent goalie Doug Favell to the Quebec Aces Friday and also started heart-to-heart talks with every player on the team.

"Before Saturday night's game at Pittsburgh, I will have talked to each player individually about their indifferent play against the Hawks and appropriate action will have been taken," Poile said.

He said Favell has been sent to Quebec, Flyers No. 1 farm team, for an indefinite period and will join the Aces in Cleveland to play against the Barons Saturday night. "But, I want this to be made perfectly clear that Doug was not being made the fall guy for the Thursday night debacle," he said. "It's a move I should have made sometime ago. We must get our goal tending straightened out and the only way to do it is for both goalies (Favell and Bernie Parent) to get plenty of work.

Poile said Dunc Wilson has been recalled from the Aces and will serve as Parent's backup.

Wilson, 21, played in 17 games with the Aces and allowed 45 goals for a 2.41 average.

Favell's average for 19 games in which he allowed 64 goals is 3.49.

Bangor frosh down Eastburg

EAST STROUDSBURG — Steve Menhenitt and Bob Trexler combined for 43 points Friday to pace the Bangor freshmen to a 55-47 win over East Stroudsburg.

Menhenitt led with 23 while Trexler had 20. John Sibley and Greg Miller, each tallied 13 for the losers, now 5-5 overall and 4-2 in the L-N.

Phila. bank agrees to lend Tose money to buy Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) The First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co. has agreed to lend trucking executive Leonard Tose a substantial portion of an estimated $15 million to $16 million he needs to buy the Philadelphia Eagles, a bank spokesman said Friday.

The bank is the same one which refused Thursday to lend Tose an undisclosed sum which was to be used in an attempt to bail Eagles' owner Jerry Wolman out of his financial difficulties. Under this arrangement between Tose and Wolman the Norristown, Pa., trucker would take over the Eagles if Wolman failed to repay the loan by Aug. 1.

The new agreement involving First Pennsylvania and Tose is subject to approval by federal bankruptcy referee Joseph O. Kaiser of Baltimore.

The bank spokesman said the new agreement is acutally a return to an original deal.

"The original deal was for Frist Pennsylvania to lend Tose money to buy assets of the Eagles," the spokesman said.

The spokesman said a snag developed Thursday when it was found that "Tose planned to relend " to Wolman the money obtained from First Pennsylvania.

The spokesman declined to fix the sum of money it plans to loan Tose for his purchase of assets of the Eagles.

Pieper cops Formula Vee title

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Steve Pieper, an Auburn University student, beat the world's best mini-mile drivers Friday to win the $32,400 world Formula Vee championship at Daytona International Speedway.

Pieper, 21, picked up $8,000 as he nosed across the finish line of the 250-mile race less than half a lap ahead of Cecil Harris Jr. of Houston, Tex. He averaged 85.6 mph.

"I just started vee racing and this is my first big one," said the jubilant college junior from Alexandria, Va. who started in the pole position of the 74 car lineup. "I have to toot my own horn on that."

Pieper raced go-karts, all built by his father, retired Air Force Col. Wilbert Pieper, for eight years and won a half-dozen junior championships.

The race for the Volkswagen-powered miniature versions of the single-seater formula racers was the richest in Vee history. It drew drivers from 16 countries around the world.

Third behind Harris, who won $5,000 for his second-place finish, was Harry Ingle of Charlotte, N.C. He was followed in fourth and fifth positions by Bill Campbell of Cantonment, Fla., and Peter Peter of Austria.

Spectacular accidents took their toll of cars in the 66-lap race around the 3.81-mile speedway track and road course. Only 44 of the 74 cars which took the green flag finished the race.

Drivers Bill Bean of Daytona Beach and R.B. Haynes of Columbia, S.C. were injured in a spectacular five-car smashup on the 15th lap. They were taken from the speedway hospital to Halifax Hospital in downtown Daytona Beach where Bean was admitted with a shoulder injury. Hayes was later released.

Late in the race, Meyer Botha of South Africa gave the crowd of 3,000 a thrill as he lost control of his car in the third turn, striking a car driven by Ray Weaver, Huntington Park, Calif., who was holding down third place at the time. Botha's car flipped three times end-over-end and he was treated at a hospital for minor head injuries and released.

The accident knocked Weaver out of the running.

Holy Cross to name Whitton

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI)—William G. "Bill" Whitton, offensive line coach at Princeton University, has been named the new head football coach at Holy Cross College, UPI learned today.

The official announcement was scheduled to be made Saturday at a 10:30 a.m. news conference on campus. He was reported en route to Worcester today.

Whitton, a 1947 graduate of St. Lawrence University, succeeds Tom Boisture, who resigned under fire in December after his teams posted an 8-11-1 record for two seasons.

Whitton, married and the father of a son and daughter, is a native of Scotland. He has been at Princeton since 1955 after serving as an aide at Lehigh, where he also coached track.

Eastern accepts Manchester

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manchester was accepted into the Eastern Baseball League Friday, replacing Binghamton.

A spokesman for the league directors said it is hoped Binghamton will rejoin the league in 1970 with a new ball park.

The Manchester francise will be either operated by the New York Yankees or will have a working agreement with the American League club. These details will be worked out shortly, the spokesman said.

Other teams in the league, with major league affiliations, are Reading (Philadelphia), York (Pittsburgh), Pittsfied (Boston), Elmire (San Diego and Kansas City), and Waterbury (Cleveland). Manchester inherits an alliance with the Yankees from Binghamton.

Binghamton is losing its present, 60-year-old ball park to a highway project. Club officials have indicated they will start construction on a new stadium.

Directors also approved a 140-game schedule, running from April 19 to Sept. 2, when playoffs begin. The all-star game is scheduled for Aug. 7 in Philadelphia.

Blue chips allow bulls to hold sway

NEW YORK (UPI) — The bulls reigned supreme in the stock market this week although the decision was in doubt until the blue chips engineered a push forward in the final two days of trading. Turnover was brisk.

A flock of impressive corporate earnings reports, with several firms boosting their dividend rates, the sharp surge in January sales by some of the nation's major retail chains, the second boost in the price of lead in less than a month, and strong demand for steel provided ammunition for the bulls. Leading steel mills reported that ordering soared to its best level since the middle of last year.

The 1968 rise in consumer prices—Biggest since the Korean War—reported by the Labor Department, a private survey which indicated construction awards rose 11 per cent in December versus a year ago, and forecasts that machine tool orders will accelerate in the coming months after some slackening in December also encouraged investors.

Still, the bears mustered their support from the first major cut back in automobile production in two years, the hostile atmosphere in the Middle East and the Vietnam peace wrangle.

Early in the week, President Nixon said the United States was making good progress in its quest for peace in Vietnam. However, at the second round of expanded peace talks in Paris on Thursday the Communists rebuffed a U.S. proposal for a mutual withdrawal of both American and Communist troops from South Vietnam. The delegates were scheduled to again meet on Feb. 6.

In addition, South Vietnam said it would enter into private contracts with the Communists if it felt such talks would speed up the search for peace. Again, the Communists turned thumbs down.

The UPI stock market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, squeezed out a gain of 0.14 to 134.98. Of the 1,702 issues crossing the tape, 790 advanced, 777 declined. There were 101 new highs set, 51 new lows.

The New York Stock Exchange index mirrored a rise of 28 cents to $58.38 in the average common share price.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index gained 0.63 to 103.01; Dow Jones average of 30 blue chip industrials added 7.46 to 946.05. DJ rails and utilities also edged ahead.

Volume rose to 59,606,988 shares from the 59,021,880 traded during the previous week. It also topped the 50,225,538 shares which changed hands at a similar period a year ago.

Armour topped the list of 20 most active issues, spurting 11½ to 70½ on 987,100 shares. Greyhound, up ¾, sweetned its offer for the Chicago - based meat packer. General Host, another Armour suitor, fell 1⅝.

American Telephone, the nation's most widely held issue, moved into the runner-up spot, gaining 1⅜ to 54 on 572,300 shares.

United Fruit, which approved a takeover offer by AMK Corp., was third on the active list, gaining 2⅝ to 82¼, ex-dividend, on 560,500 shares. AMK, also heavily traded, fell 2⅞.

Union Pacific Preferred was the most active rail issue, gaining ⅛. The road's common rose 2⅜. The Justice Department said it would not object to the proposed merger of Union Pacific and Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, up 5¾. In addition, Union Pacific, through its Natural Resources Division, announced a uranium ore find in Wyoming.

Goodrich off 1¼. Bunker Ramo off ½ and Denny's Restaurants up ⅛ all made the most active list. The last reflected increased earnings.

Stocks rise slightly in brisk trade

NEW YORK (UPI) - The bulls squeezed out a narrow victory over the bears on Wall Street Friday, giving the stock market its first winning performance in more than a week. Trading was brisk.

Although normal, pre-weekend, evening - up pressure restricted demand, traders initially were inspired by the sharp surge in January sales by some major retail chains and the second boost in the price of lead in less than a month.

Strong demand for steel also provided support. Late in the day, some prominent mills reported steel ordering soared to its best level since the middle of last year.

The Vietnam peace wrangle, and the sensitive situation in the Middle East did little for the bullish element, although investors were hopeful the Vietnam talks in Paris eventually would prove successful.

The UPI stock market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a gain 0.12 per cent on 1,565 issues crossing the tape. Advances edged declines, 686 to 628. There were 43 new highs and 21 new lows.

The New York Stock Exchange index mirrored a rise of 20 cents in the average common share price.

The Dow Jones average of 30 blue chip industrials moved up 3.92 to 946.05. DJ rails and utilities gained more than a point each.

Volume totaled 12,020,000 shares, off a bit from the 13,010,000 shares on Thursday.

Armour headed the list of 15 most active issues, which included seven winners, seven losers and one unchanged.

The Chicago - based meat packer added 1 to 70½ on 221,800 shares. Greyhound, which recently sweetened its offer for Armour stock, gained ⅛. General Host, anothdr Armour suitor, fell 1⅛.

Upjohn held the runner-up spot among the actives, losing ⅝ to 53⅛ on 156,500 shares. Loew's Theatres was in third place, climbing 3⅜ to 54 on 147,800 shares.

World Airways was the most active airline, dipping 2¼. World Airways and INA Corp. terminated merger talks. INA rose 3⅛. Levin-Townsend said it plans to make an offer for INA.

Your Horoscope

By Francis Drake

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Some tidying up to do, possibly rearranging. Don't go off on a tangent or let distractions sidetrack you. Avoid fatigue but do not anticipate difficulty.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Whether your day calls for hard work, mild activity or just rest, do what you must with the realization that your planets promise a highly beneficial day. Enjoy it.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Much like Taurus. What you know you must do, attack with sufficient vigor but not too strenuously, and keep all activities in place and in proper tempo.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Bear in mind that things are not unmarketable just because they have not yet been accepted! Striving and faith will bring good results in time.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Note the questions others ask, where they place their trust. This is not so that you may follow, but to be guided in using your own powers of evaluating and consideration.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Be an early bird and go after that prize. There are choice winnings for the earnest trying. Mind whose toes are out so you do not step heedlessly.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Not everything will please you nor will you wish to fall in with all suggestions. Play safe so as not to create the wrong impression by opposing or withdrawing tactlessly: Day needs your wits.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Clerical and domestic work, "minding the store" in various ways may be THE stabilizers, even though a bit dull. Try! Not all work, not all play!

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Give a good accounting, no matter what your tasks, and you will be surprised at the pleasing returns. Emphasize tact, impartiality, thoroughness.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — If this past week did not develop as you desired, or some issues still remain unsolved, it just means that you have a further job to do — and with your Sign's usual good-will and practicality!

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Knowledgeable people continue to seek more learning, more information, better cooperation with forces seeking sound results. Surely YOU will be in this category!

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — A tip-top period for achieving happiness through personal relationships. Make the most of it. You may have to revise plans a bit, so be ready, and don't let it worry you.

YOU BORN TODAY: Your keyword is AMBITION. Little discourages you especially if you have the confidence of family, co-workers, superiors. Normally practical, you are able to take advantage of opportunity — sometimes see it coming before others do. Avoid useless, unhappy friction in relationships. The next few weeks require patience with others and with the efforts they are trying to put forth. Your penetratingly enthusiastic self can help to bring about results desired by all. Birthdate of: Victor Herbert, American composer.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 2-1

TIRED OF RETIREMENT?

We hire retired people . . . who aren't tired of working and who are looking for something that's fun to do.

We have part-time jobs that don't take all your time, won't "tie you down" to a rigorous schedule . . . and will give you some extra pocket money.

How would you like a youthful job delivering newspapers? The work is easy, gets you out early in the morning; you'll also meet new people.

After all, why should the kids have all the fun!

If you'd like to get back in the swing of things, please give us a call. Ph. 421-3000.

Ask for Mr. Widmer in the Circulation Dept.

House of the week

Ranch with French Provincial lines offers compromise

By ANDY LANG

In custom home building, a departure from the conventional usually raises the cost beyond what the average purchaser is prepared to pay. Yet many buyers insist on something different and have the wherewithal to satisfy their wishes.

This latest House of the Week was designed by architect Herman H. York with the intention of providing a compromise. It's a modified French Provincial, done with the traditional hip roof and using details typical of this style, which might be termed somewhat more sophisticated and perhaps more elegant than most ranch houses.

The architect would like to have specified, among other things, a slate or tile roof, more detailed cornice mouldings, special shutters, special brick, etc., but he has used those materials with which home builders are familiar and which are readily available. Thus, even though the styling of the French Provincial period has been carried out, the house falls into the "modified" category.

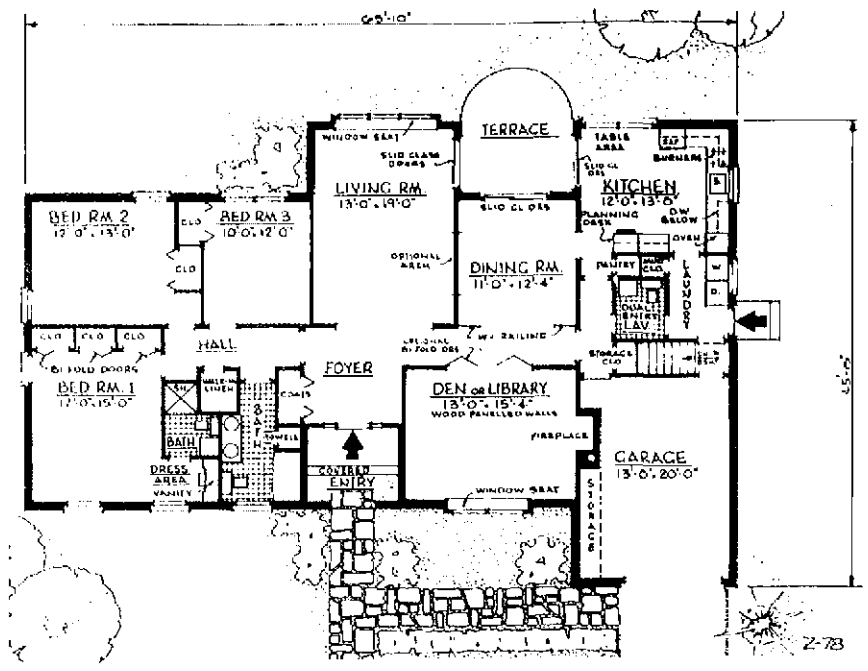
The floor plan of Design Z-78 is not unusual in its relationship of rooms to one another, but an examination discloses many desirable features to provide convenient and sensible family living.

Moving past the coveted entryway into the foyer, one gets an immediate view of the length of the living room all the way back to the rear of the house. An attractive window seat has storage space below it. And there are sliding glass doors to a terrace. The adjacent dining room has the same kind of doors leading to the same terrace. While the plans call for a solid wall between the living room and the dining room, an archway opening between them is optional.

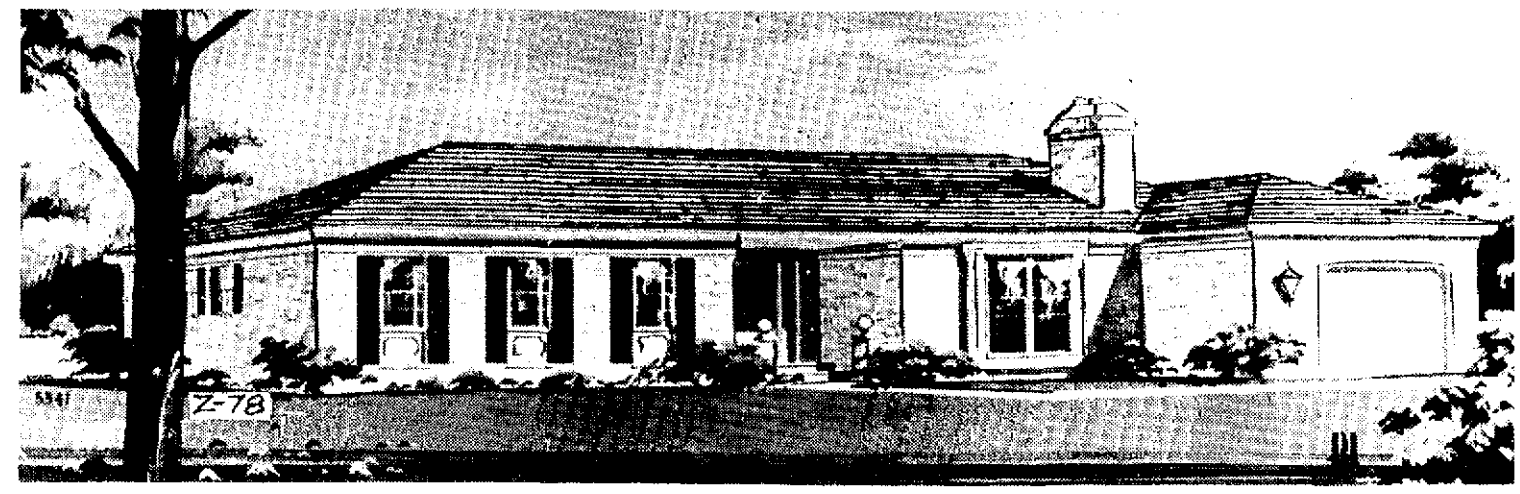
To the right of the foyer is a wood panelled room that can be used as a den, library or family room. It has a fireplace and a window seat similar to that in the living room. The kitchen is accessible from the foyer without going through any other room, from the right side of the house, from the dining room and from the rear terrace. It is next to the laundry room, a mud closet, a pantry, a dual-entry lavatory and the stairway to the basement.

The bedroom wing, at the right side of the house, is reached directly from the front foyer. There are three bedrooms and two baths, the main bathroom having twin lavatories and a towel closet separate from the walk-in linen closet in the bedroom hall. The private bath in the master bedroom has a stall shower with an adjacent vanity and dressing area.

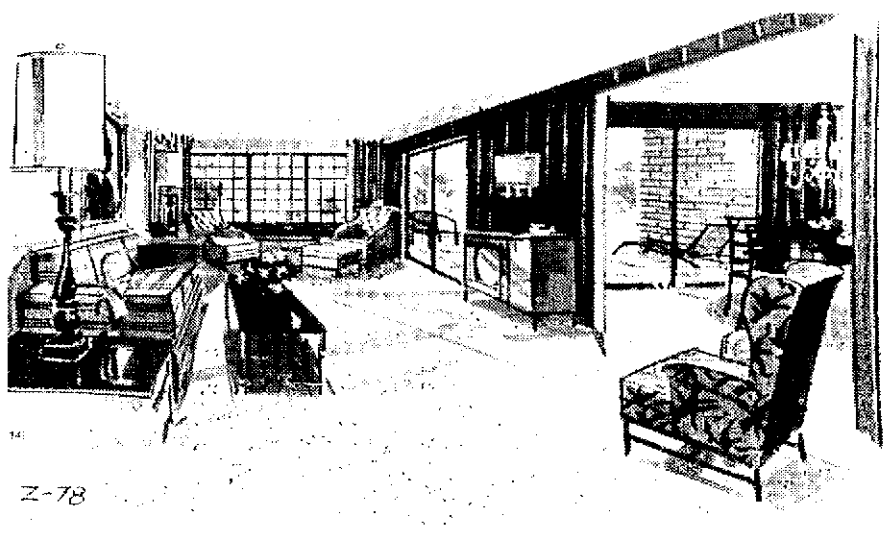
In carrying out the French Provincial styling, architect York has chosen a brick veneer finish completely around the house. The front elevation is done with a minimum variety of window sizes. Care has been taken to keep the windows of the bedroom wing uniform even though one of them is in a bathroom. A covered entry with low brick wall makes for a pleasant approach to the front door.



Floor plans: Good traffic circulation, with entry foyer as the hub, is immediately apparent. In addition, there are entrances to the living room, dining room and kitchen from the rear; and entrances to the kitchen from the side and the garage.



Delicate detail of exterior is typical of French Provincial styling. Panels in the garage door, for example, are of a size compatible with the balance of the front. Note exact size of three windows at left front, although one of them is in a bathroom.



View from foyer extends through living room to window wall at rear of house. Terrace is accessible through sliding glass doors in the living room and similar doors in adjacent dining room.

Statistics

Design Z-78 has a living room, dining room, den, kitchen, laundry, three bedrooms, two baths, a lavatory and a foyer, with a total habitable area of 1932 square feet. The one-car garage has a storage area built into one wall. Plans call for a basement. Over-all dimensions, which include the garage, are 65 feet 10 inches by 45 feet eight inches.

Every automobile driver knows that he can clear the windshield of fogginess by opening a window at his side. As the air along the inside of the windshield is diluted by the colder outside air, the contrast on opposite sides of the windshield is greatly reduced. The fogginess, a form of condensation, disappears.

Ventilation is also an efficient way of reducing or eliminating the condensation on the inside windows and walls of houses. The modern house is a container of humidity that needs to be lowered. Condensation is the sign of excessive humidity or water vapor inside the house.

Even in warm, dry areas of the country, humidity is sometimes a problem, as it is a relative condition. On a cool day, droplets of water form on windows chilled by the outside air. The water is extracted from the warm, moist inside air when it comes in contact with the cooler surface of the window glass.

In colder climates, the contrast of interior and exterior temperatures is, of course, much greater. The formation of frost on the insides of windows is not uncommon, especially when there are no storm windows — unless steps are taken to reduce humidity or to warm up cold surfaces, or both. In some cases, frost even forms on the inside of storm windows, an indication that moist air is leaking through the regular window and hitting the storm window.

The results of condensation include water stains on sills, wall areas and floors beneath the windows. There is hidden damage when water seeps through cracks in sill molding and drips onto the wood framework inside the walls. Even less obvious is the damage caused when excessive humidity inside a house passes through the interior walls to the outside walls, especially when there are insufficient vapor barriers.

QUESTION: Can you tell me how to eliminate squeaks in stairs? Three or four of the steps make a creaking noise every time they are stepped on.

ANSWER: First, so we understand each other, let's define treads, risers and stringers. Treads are the horizontal pieces on which you walk. Risers are the vertical boards under the treads. And stringers are the heavy wooden members on the sides, to which both treads and risers are attached.

If the underside of the stairway is accessible, have someone walk up and down while you inspect the underside. Using a flashlight and a piece of chalk, mark the points at which there are squeaks. You'll find that, in each case, one piece of wood has come loose from another and that a well-placed nail, screw or wedge will correct the trouble.

More often than not, a wedge between a tread and stringer has loosened. If the underside of the stairway is not visible, locate a step that has a squeak, then carefully remove the molding from under the lip of the tread. This will show you at once whether the tread and risers are nailed together or whether there is a tongue-and-groove arrangement. If they have been nailed, have someone stand on the tread while you drive 10-penny flooring nails diagonally through the top of the tread into the riser. Three or four nails usually are required.

If the tongue-and-groove method has been used, drive thin wedges between the tongue and the groove until the joint is secure. Replace the lip molding and the job is done. Where the nailing type of repair is made, the nailheads should be recessed with wood putty or plastic wood, using a matching filler if the stairway is not covered with carpeting or other material.

QUESTION: I recently tried using a spray can of enamel for the first time and found it so much easier and better than painting with a brush or roller. I'd like to try spraying in the painting of our kitchen. Do you see any objection to this?

ANSWER: It depends on what kind of spraying you mean. If you are referring to painting the kitchen with the type of spray can you used, be prepared to spend far, far more than it would cost to paint with a roller or brush. Not only does paint in a spray can cost more, but a considerable percentage of it is wasted in the air.

If you want to try regular spraying equipment — in which you pour the paint into the container — go ahead. But you should first learn the technique of handling such equipment.
